Parties Watching Athabasca Riding For Socred Trial

Aberhart Faces First Contest in Rural Seat At November 7 By-Election—Will Be Test For Social Credit

With the Athabasca by-election scheduled for November 7, and official nomination day on October 28, the eyes of Alberta political leaders are turned on the northern Alberta constituency where Premier William Aberhart, leader of the Social Credit party in the west, faces the first contest of his government in a government held rural seat since his election to office by an overwhelming landslide on August 22, 1935.

Social Credit strength has been mainly in the 49 rural constituencies of the province and the Athabasca by-election is looked upon by leaders of opposing parties as a barometer to show whether there is any deflection from the Social Credit party since the government took office.

In some quarters it is reported that there is a decided swing away from the Aberhart organization in some rural sections, notably where Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation organizers have been active among the United Farmers of Alberta locals.

At the last U.F.A. convention the matter of co-operating with the C.C.F. in the provincial field was left to the various locals themselves to decide, and as the vote at the preceding convention was about fifty per cent in favor of this union in provincial politics, and organization to this end had been proceeding despite the opposition of U.F.A. headquarters, it is believed by C.C.F. officials that they can make considerable gains in any general election in Alberta in the future

Athabasca is not one of the constituencies where C.C.F. organizers

VISITOR LAUDS MAYOR DAY ON RED CAMPAIGN

Ald. G. P. Granell, Toronto, Scores Communist Councillors

Mayor Ralph C. Day of Toronto is to be congratulated "for taking the bull by the horns and exposing the extent of the Communistic activity in that city," according to Labor Ald. G. P. Granell, Toronto, who is visiting Edmonton in the course of a business and holiday tour of the west.

"For two years as a member of the Toronto city council I have watched Communist members of that council oppose every project which might have been of benefit to the city as a whole or to the working men in the city. They seem to side with the big shots every time. They are not interested in the welfare of either the working classes nor of the people as a

TWO TRAGEDIES REPORTED FROM WEST DISTRICT

One suicide and one accidental drowning in the Stony Plain district were reported by R.C.M.P. Thursday.

Charles Witherspoon, 56, farmer residing eight miles south of Stony Plain, was found hanging in the granary on his farm at 6 a.m. Thursday. His death was termed a suicide, and Coroner Dr. R. M. Oatway of Stony Plain said no inquest would be necessary. The man, who leaves his wife and one son, who teaches school near Lavoy, was said to have been depressed since being convicted five years ago of manslaughter following a car accident in which two persons were killed.

Mildred M. Jesperson, 22-month-old daughter of Harold Jesperson, who farms five miles north of Stony Plain, fell into a cement water trough on her father's farm at noon Wednesday and was accidentally drowned. Coroner Dr. Oatway of Stony Plain decided no inquest would be necessary.

Thebaud was called off at 1.48 p.m. (11.48 a.m. M.S.T.) today because of lack of wind. The vessels covered approximately 22 miles of the 36-mile course.

It is expected that other contracts, including excavation, wiring, etc., will bring the cost to more than $800,000.

Japanese Mercantile Firms Offer Supply Hong Kong Provisions

(Turn to Page 16 for Sino-Jap War News)

TOKYO, Oct. 20—The Mitsui and Mitsubishi firms, largest individual and financial interests in Japan, are ready to supply provisions for Hong Kong without profit to themselves if the British authorities there are willing, it was announced today.

The Japanese are awaiting Hong Kong's reply to an offer made Monday through the Japanese consul general there.

The proposal was that foodstuffs should be taken over from neighboring Formosa in the event hostilities subject Hong Kong to a meat and vegetable shortage.

Observers said this display of good will reflected Japanese relief over the failure of Great Britain to "react" to the invasion of its "sphere of influence" in South China. Prior to the southern campaign the factor uppermost in Japanese official minds was the probability of British reprisals for any Japanese action affecting directly the interests of Hong Kong.

Japanese naval spokesmen today expressed satisfaction at Great Britain's "fair understanding of the situation."

Pact For Division Of World Markets Is Roosevelt Aim

Prefers Division Of Markets For Surplus Farm Products To Dumping Abroad At Low Prices

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Oct. 20—President Roosevelt was represented today as preferring an international agreement to divide up the world market for surplus products like wheat and cotton, over the dumping of such commodities abroad at ridiculously low prices.

Senator Josh Lee (Dem.-Oklahoma) so defined the President's views before leaving early today for Albany. He had a lengthy discussion of the farm problem with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday.

He said he found the President in agreement that the domestic market should be allotted to the American farmer at a fair price, but Mr. Roosevelt felt that some day it would be necessary for the major exporting nations to agree on an equitable distribution of world markets instead of dumping their surpluses and having the world price set the domestic price.

The Oklahoma senator said he favored a domestic allotment plan

MILL RATE UP AS COSTS HIGH HODGSON SAYS

Citizens should realize that the mill rate is higher today than in former years because of the new demands being made upon the civic treasury which it did not have to face before, Commissioner John Hodson told the Rotary Club Thursday noon at the Macdonald hotel. He was introduced by Commissioner Gibb.

Often burgesses think their burdens have been eased if the mill rate has been cut, without paying any attention to the assessment figure, he warned as he stressed that both must be considered.

TROOPS OUST ARAB REBELS IN JERUSALEM

Comparative Calm Reigns After 30 Months Of Continuous Fighting

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

JERUSALEM, Oct. 20—Comparative calm reigned over this Holy city today after 30 months of continuous Arab-Jewish turmoil as British soldiers completed clean-up operations by restoring order to the old section.

This operation ended 24 hours of steady military efforts to eliminate nests of rebellious Arabs who had held the old city for four days, and was a prelude to the larger task of stopping acts of terrorism throughout Palestine.

NINE ARAB DEATHS

The campaign caused nine Arab deaths and injuries to 18 others. Two British constables and one soldier were wounded. Forty Arabs were taken prisoner.

CREDIT URGED TO PUSH FEED CATTLE PLAN

Would Stimulate Livestock Industry Jack Byers Says

CALGARY, Oct. 20.—Proposal that banks should make available, with provincial government guarantees, credit for farmers with feed and facilities for feeding cattle this winter as a stimulus to the Alberta livestock industry will be placed before Hon. D. B. Mullen, provincial minister of agriculture.

Jack Byers, manager of the Western Stock Growers' Association, suggested the winter-feeding scheme to members of the Calgary Board of Trade Council at a meeting yesterday. The council decided to write Mr. Mullen to learn what his attitude toward such a scheme would be.

COULD PROFIT

With an abundance of roughage available in parts of the province it seemed unnecessary that hundreds of animals should go out of the province when Alberta feeders could profit by such a scheme, Mr. Byers said.

This was not a request for a livestock feeder policy, he added. The provincial government already had established a fund for this purpose but it was too late in the season to form new feeder associations. He said there were many farmers quite capable of feeding stock who did not have the money to buy animals.

Chamberlain Now Working Out Plans With Hitler, Duce

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, JR.
British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Oct. 20—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain has worked out plans for early conferences with Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in an effort to push his "peace in our time" hopes, it is reported.

Political quarters reported Chamberlain was prepared to invite Hitler to outline all his grievances and aims, including his desire for colonial territory, and to seek Mussolini's co-operation in a sweeping policy of European appeasement.

Premier Returns To Outline His Diplomatic Plans

Chamberlain returned to London to preside at a cabinet meeting at No. 10 Downing street and outline to his colleagues his political and diplomatic program.

The meeting was the first of a series necessary to solidify policy before the meeting of parliament Nov. 1.

Chamberlain was reported to be ready to ask parliamentary approval of a policy of friendship with Italy, under which the British-Italian friendship treaty, negotiated last spring, would be made effective at once and Italy's conquest of Ethiopia would be recognized.

Will Involve Concessions To Continental Dictator

This would involve another big concession to a continental dictator. It had been agreed that the treaty would become effective only when Italy had made a "substantial" withdrawal of troops from Spain. Mussolini has withdrawn 10,000 infantrymen but no aviators, artillerymen or tank corps men, according to reports.

The British government sought to persuade him to withdraw a more "substantial" proportion of his army. Apparently he refused—and now Chamberlain is prepared to make the pact effective on Mussolini's terms.

Hitch Is Reported In Anglo-American Trade Pact Talks

By RICHARD McMILLAN
British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 20—It is learned from unimpeachable sources here today that a serious hitch has occurred in the British-United States trade agreement talks, and that in spite of any denials that may be issued by either Washington or London, Prime Minister Chamberlain will be faced shortly with the decision of whether to break off negotiations and recall the British delegation from Washington entirely or to start off again on a new basis.

It is reliably reported that difficulties arose over British unwillingness to grant further tariff concessions on American automobiles, silk stockings, hams, bacon, lard and timber, all of which vitally affect Canadian trade interests. The differences are said to be serious and the British delegation is in constant touch with British cabinet officials with Prime Minister Chamberlain himself taking a big part in the deliberations.

Democratic and Dictatorial Countries Are Urged to Bury Differences

RE-ESTABLISH RELATIONS IS KENNEDY PLEA

United States Ambassador To Britain Praises Chamberlain's Action

LONDON, Oct. 20—Joseph Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, declared last night that democratic and dictatorial countries should bury their differences and seek to re-establish good relations in a world threatened with disaster from a mad armament race.

Speaking at the annual Trafalgar day dinner of the Navy league, an annual tribute to Lord Nelson, Mr. Kennedy praised Prime Minister Chamberlain's "All but superhuman efforts in behalf of peace," in the recent crisis. He said, however, that "Only history will show whether or not he made the right decision."

COMMEND ACTION

In the light of that crisis, Mr. Kennedy said, "It is hard to quarrel with the decision of any nation to build up its military forces, in fact we can only commend such action on the part of those sincerely committed to a policy of peace."

But he expressed the belief that the armaments burden was approaching the point "Where it threatens sooner or later to engulf us all in a major disaster," and "For this reason the American people look forward to the day when the nations of the world will realize they must agree upon limitation and reduction of armaments."

The ambassador declared it had long been his theory that it was "unproductive for both democratic and dictator countries to widen the division now existing between them by emphasizing their differences, which are self-apparent."

GOOD RELATIONS

"Instead of hammering away at what are regarded as irreconsiliables they would advantageously bend their energies toward solving their common problems and attempt to re-establish good relations on a world basis."

He told how the United States and Great Britain, in building up their navies, ruled out the possibility of using them against each other and without any sort of alliance "actually welcomed every ship launched by the other."

INCENTIVE TO PEACE

"So far as Great Britain and the United States are concerned," he said, "the navy is an incentive not to discord but to peace."

Turning to merchant shipping, he said the feeling had "not been quite so harmonious" in that field, but there was no reason "why we should not get together on the merchant marine."

He asserted shipping had "ceased to be a business in most countries and had become instead an adjunct to the national defence."

"We try to understand your need for a great merchant fleet," he added. "We hope you will try to understand our need for a small one."

World Pact

under which each farmer would get a specific share of the home market and let any surplus "seek its own level."

Lee predicted that the next congress would work out a bill that "will afford, first, a fair price for home consumption; second, an allotment based on bushels and pounds rather than acres, and third, fair treatment of family farms."

As for guaranteeing a profitable domestic price, Lee said this could be done either by straight-out price fixing, a subsidy or equalizing payment for the treasury, or federal loans to peg prices. He added he favored the third.

Emphasizing that foreign and domestic markets must be treated separately, Lee said surpluses could be sold abroad now if the price were only right.

MOTHER GIVES BIRTH TO BABY IN IRON LUNG

Child Eight Weeks Premature — Weighs Two Pounds, Nine Ounces

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 20.—A baby girl, born while her mother suffered in an iron lung with infantile paralysis, died at the General hospital here last night.

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 20.—A 17-year-old mother, suffering from infantile paralysis, gave birth to a baby girl while lying in a respirator in hospital here Wednesday. The case was believed here to be unparalleled in medical history.

The baby, eight weeks premature, weighed two pounds, nine ounces. Attending physicians reported last night the mother, whose name was not divulged, was doing as "well as could be expected." The baby was given a "fair chance" to live.

Hospital authorities said the mother has been in the respirator since Sept. 3. Her case was complicated Oct. 14 when she contracted a cold. During the delivery of the baby, oxygen was administered when it was necessary to remove her stretcher from the respirator for three brief periods.

The birth occurred in the isolation hospital here. Immediately after the delivery the child was taken to the General hospital in nearby Port Arthur.

SURFACING FOR ROADS PLANNED EARLY IN 1939

Surfacing of the Red Deer-Crossfield and Edmonton-Spruce Grove sections of highway will be two of the first pieces of work on the 1939 government highways program, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works stated on Thursday.

Mr. Fallow stated that work on these two sections is nearly completed for this season.

The Red Deer-Crossfield section is entirely new construction and is completely graded, with some gravelling done. As soon as possible next season it will be surfaced.

The Edmonton-Spruce Grove section also has been graded this season and gravelling is all but finished. Hard-surfacing also will be carried out here early next spring.

Work on the latter section will be continued until freeze-up.

FORMER CITY MAYOR SCORES SOLID COUNCIL

Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., Addresses Community In Election Campaign

Heated attack on what he termed a "solid, secret council" managing city affairs was made by ex-Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., in an address at the Calgary Trail Community League meeting Wednesday night. Floyd W. Davis, league president, was chairman.

The real issues of the city could not be properly discussed by an unanimous council, Mr. Clarke said, speaking in his campaign for re-election as mayor.

STARTED PLAN

Plans to build new department stores here, he said, were started while he was mayor and he added that he initiated the plan to straighten the jog on 102 avenue.

Completion of the fields at the Clarke Stadium for the use of small children's sports had been mapped out by himself and others interested, he said, "But work to this end has not been attempted yet," he said, "and I am afraid it will not be done as long as big business continues to finance municipal elections."

Relief department scandals had been hushed up and the chief offender assisted to leave for Great Britain, he claimed.

FORTIN PLAN

A lower mill rate and lower interest had been promised with the Fortin plan for refunding the city's debt, he said. "Now they (the solid, secret council) just laugh at you and promise, threaten or intimate a higher mill rate. In fact, the boss official allowed 70 mills to slip from his lips," he said.

He criticized the city's move to buy trolley busses to replace a section of the street railway.

In the league's business meeting, Mr. Davis and William Grant were named as a rink committee, with William Letke caretaker. The community hall dance floor will be resanded.

MAN NOT FORCED ON GUILTY PLEA COURT DECIDES

The allegation made by William Alexandruk before Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in Supreme Court Wednesday that he was forced to make a guilty plea to a charge of breaking and entering was proven to be without foundation Thursday morning.

Alexandruk had stated under oath Wednesday that Corporal H. Shandruk had refused to permit him to write to an acceptance corporation about to sell his motor car for nonpayment of installments on its purchase price unless he made a plea of guilty to breaking and entering a store at Hairy Hills on July 1, 1936.

Thursday Crown Prosecutor J. W. McClung adduced evidence that instead of preventing Alexandruk from dealing with the acceptance corporation Constable Shandruk had advised him to have his counsel deal with the matter. Letters from the accused's counsel file showed that letters were written on Alexandruk's instructions to dispose of the car by private sale.

Alexandruk was found not guilty by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives in Supreme Court on a charge of stealing seven mink valued at $175, the property of W. W. Walker, Wabamun hotel-keeper.

Mr. Justice Ives said the accused had told a reasonable story of his connection with two other men implicated in the mink robbery, and had created a reasonable doubt of his guilt by his evidence. He discharged the accused. R. Fred Jackson was counsel for Alexandruk.

Interim Turkish Presidency Due To Ataturk's Illness

ANKARA, Oct. 20. — The full council of Turkish ministers met today to fulfil constitutional provisions for an interim presidency in the face of President Kamal Ataturk's grave illness.

The purpose of the meeting was announced as "deciding constitutional steps dictated by the continuation and gravity" of Ataturk's condition.

The steel-willed dictator rallied, however, as the council met. This morning's official bulletin said he had spent a very good night and that his general condition was improved. He suffers a liver ailment.

PARITY PRICES FOR GRAIN IN CANADA ASKED

Saskatchewan Farmers Demand New Deal From Ottawa Next April

SASKATOON, Oct. 20—Federal government guarantee of parity prices for the 1939 grain crop by definite legislation was demanded here Wednesday by the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, annual convention. Delegates passed a resolution threatening a delivery strike unless parity prices were set by April 1, 1939.

The resolution authorized the central U.F.C. board to declare a holding policy, whereby members would hold all farm products off the market until parity prices were established, unless the federal government had assured a parity price for the 1939 grain crop by April 1, 1939.

ENDORSE ELIASON

The resolution is a complete endorsation of secretary Frank Eliason's recent suggestion that farmers of Saskatchewan should hold their wheat shipments until such time as the price of wheat is in line with the cost of necessities which farmers must buy in order to operate.

H. A. Crofford, chairman of the resolutions committee, explained that parity between the cost of the 1939 grain crop and the price farmers must pay for their necessities, should be determined by the farm economics department of the western universities. He added that the present parity price for wheat on that basis would be $1.05 a bushel.

The convention decided to enlist support of all Co-operative and kindred organizations in an effort to obtain economic equality with other occupational groups in Canada.

TRAVELLERS TO HOLD PARLEY IN CITY SATURDAY

Members of the Alberta section of the North West Commercial Travellers' Association of Canada, 500 strong, will be in session at the Macdonald hotel on Saturday, October 22, for the annual general meeting of the organization and to meet President W. Borlase of Winnipeg, and Secretary J. H. Roe of the Manitoba capital. Both officials are making their first trip west in their official positions, although they have been in Alberta many times before.

Mr. Roe, who is known to travellers from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was for 20 years assistant secretary of the organization until taking over the secretaryship on the retirement of F. J. C. "Ed." Cox who had held the post for 38 years. Mr. Borlase is also a veteran among travellers and is equally well known.

A feature of this year's meeting is the luncheon which will precede the general meeting and for which several novel stunts have been arranged.

Two Nanton Boys Win First Place In Grain Judging

CALGARY, Oct. 20—Two Nanton boys, G. C. Loree and P. A. MacPherson, were awarded first place in grain judging in the elimination contest for Calgary and district here Wednesday. They obtained 684 points out a possible 800.

Clifford Tibb and Dick Clayton of Airdrie came second with 635 points and F. C. Fraser and W. E. Brocklebank, High River, third with 634 points. Twelve teams competed.

The first and second teams will compete in southern Alberta eliminations, the winners meeting northern Alberta finalists for the right to represent Alberta at the Royal Winter fair in Toronto next month.

East-West Roads Urged For Areas Along Main Route

Residents of the area to the south and east of Red Deer are urging the provincial government to construct east-west roads from the main north-south highway at Penhold and other points, across to the highway to the east which runs to Pine Lake, a body of water 30 miles southeast of Red Deer.

Representations have been made to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, that these roads be constructed in view of the fact that Pine Lake is a desirable summer resort.

Mr. Fallow, while giving no assurances, has agreed to send an engineer to survey the situation and report to the government.

CHILD KILLER LIKELY NEVER TO FACE TRIAL

Harry Shire Under Observation For Sanity at Mental Institution

Harry Shire, charged with the murder of his 10-month-old son, Raymond Shire, and his seven-and-a-half-year-old niece, Florence Wasalasko, will not go on trial at the supreme court sessions which open at Vegreville on November 7, and there is the possibility that he will never answer to the murder charges in a court of law.

The accused has been under observation at Oliver institute for some time past, and recently he was removed to Ponoka mental institute for further observation. It is understood that a medical panel will return a verdict that he is insane and incapable of pleading to the murder charges when it is decided to arraign him.

REFUSES COMMENT

Guy H. Patterson, crown prosecutor for the Vegreville judicial district, stated Thursday that Shire would not be brought to trial at the sessions at Vegreville opening on November 7. He refused to comment on Shire's mental condition.

The murders were committed at the Shire home at Duvernay, in the Vegreville district, on July 15 last. The accused also attacked his wife, Elizabeth, Peter Antoniuk, and uncle, and James Wasalasko, brother of the murdered girl.

Mrs. Shire was so brutally assaulted that her life was dispared of for 48 hours. She is slowly recovering from the head wounds inflicted last July.

BOY GIVES ALARM

Alarm was given by James Wasalasko, who managed to crawl from the Shire home, saddle a pony and ride to the Two Hills Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment.

There followed a four day manhunt for the crazed man which culminated in his arrest at Killam by Constable Lionel Broadway following information received from a waitress working in a Killam restaurant.

CHARLES GOULD MAY SEEK SEAT REPORT STATES

Possibility of a four cornered fight for the mayoralty was indicated Thursday when it was learned that Charles Gould, former Social Credit alderman, would seek election to the mayor's chair in the November municipal election.

Party adherents stated Thursday that while no definite decision was made, it was possible that Mr. Gould would be the Social Credit candidate.

Already in the field are Mayor J. W. Fry, seeking a second term of office on the Citizens' Committee slate, and former Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, K.C., F. J. Speed, perennial candidate, will also be in the contest.

whole, but merely in themselves," charged the jovial, but fiery, alderman.

SUFFERING

"As an employer of labor I know that the labor man's lot is hard enough, and as the representative of the largest ward in Toronto—118,000 persons—I have seen at first hand the great sufferng that comes from class wars and the lack of sympathy which characterizes the actions of some employers.

"But I have found that by treating labor decently, by paying your men what they are worth by getting to know them and understanding their problems, that there need be no labor problem, discontent, nor the class war preached by these Communists whose only aim is to sabotage our society and our democracy.

"I am 100 per cent behind our mayor—who is a good mayor—and who will be re-elected, probably by acclamation this fall.

"Certainly the time has come to put a stop to both Communistic and Fascist activity in this country before they go too far. We democrats must remember that we would receive no consideration from these people if they ever gain power.

LABOR PROBLEMS

"They have caused much of the trouble which we call labor problems today. The labor problem can best be solved by understanding and sympathy between employer and employed. The Communist breaks down any understanding which may exist and attempts to raise a barrier between the two.

"The problem cannot be solved merely by prosecuting the Reds, however. Factory owners and industrial magnates must co-operate with workers—must learn labor's special problems—and then together the employer and the employed must find the solution to their mutual problems," he declared.

On Thursday morning Alderman Granell visited the Civic block to confer with Mayor John W. Fry and city officials, and to discuss questions of mutual interest.

Germany Remains Only Real Threat For Soviet State

Russian Political Circles Think Hitler's Next Move Will Be Along Polish Corridor and Danzig

By JEAN CHAMPENOIS

Copyright 1938 by The Havas News Agency

MOSCOW, Oct. 20—Political circles here indicated neither a Japanese offensive against far eastern Russia nor a German drive at the Ukraine are feared as imminent military developments in the international situation. Political experts believed Germany's next thrust will involve the Polish Corridor and Danzig.

Moscow circles appear convinced Japan, even with a foreign policy dominated by the army, could not move against Russia at present since it would be impossible for Japan to become sufficiently free from the war in China.

Germany remains the prime unknown factor facing Russia. Moscow believes the reason the Reich has indifferently supported the Polish-Hungarian move to take Ruthenia was to reserve for itself a base from which to move on the Ukraine, but this move is believed far in the future.

Soviet circles predict Germany's next move will be to claim Danzig and the Polish corridor, giving it a clear path toward Lithuania. In this case complications might result with Moscow.

Lithuania is separated from the Soviet Union by a strip of Polish territory. Moscow has no defensive pact with Lithuania, but it does have a non-aggression treaty. During the Polish-Lithuanian incident last spring Moscow warned Warsaw it would consider any violation of the integrity of Lithuania as possibly entailing grave consequences.

FRANCE CAN WAIT

Concerning France, Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff's return from Geneva has resulted in moderating certain quarters which wanted France to define the exact value of the Franco-Soviet pact after the Munich agreements settling the German-Czech crisis.

Litvinoff's advice was that any discussion on the Franco-Soviet pact can wait. He pointed out that the Russo-German treaty of friendship has never been denounced.

POLICE SEARCH FOR SWINDLER AFTER THEFTS

"Prospector" Passes $3,200 In Bad Cheques Here—"Buys" House

Convincing an Edmonton bank recently that he had an account of $4,000 in an Ontario bank, a man who claimed to be a prospector from Sudbury bound for the northern goldfields obtained a letter of credit from the city bank, and then started spending money, by cheque to the tune of $3,200. He then left town. Police started on his trail when the cheques on Ontario bank branches "bounced back".

City police reported Thursday they were investigating the case in an attempt to track down the bad cheque artist. Victims of the fraud are being questioned for his description and the method in which he worked. R.C.M.P. are also working on the case.

Over a period of the past two weeks, the man obtained by means of cheques a $2,400 house, an $800 car, $75 in clothing, $75 in prospector's equipment, and to cap it all, legal advice from a city law firm who advised him in his purchases.

The house is the only article of the fraudulently obtained goods which the hunted man didn't take away with him.

SAYS HE'S "PROSPECTOR"

Fooling those whom he swindled completely, the middle aged man acted the part of a prospector outfitting for a trip north to perfection.

Among his victims were 101 street outfitters from whom he obtained the clothing and equipment, and an automobile salesman, who is out one used car.

CITY GRANT FOR SPORTING CLUBS IS RECOMMENDED

City finance committee on Wednesday recommended rebate of half their light and water accounts to five taxpaying curling clubs and two badminton clubs.

N. V. Buchanan, appearing on behalf of the clubs, stated that the clubs could not continue to operate with their present high taxes. Commissioner Hodgson said that refunding of half their water and light accounts would be equivalent to a rebate of half their taxes and would cost the city less than $1,000 a year.

the Alberta co-operative council, at the Winnipeg conference.

At a meeting of the executive of the co-operative council, representing approximately 52,000 producers here, the recent proposal of Premier John Bracken of Manitoba for an international conference on the marketing of western agricultural products was approved.

ADEQUATELY REPRESENTED

It was suggested, however, that producers, through their own organizations, should be adequately represented should such a conference be called. The council felt that any such national question should not be confined to government representatives.

A resolution approving the proposal with the added suggestion for producer representation was forwarded to Premier Bracken from the council offices here today.

Dinosaur

when it was the marshy shore of a receding sea.

Secondary purpose will be to get a photographic record of the geological structure of the country—a record which may lead to the discovery of a new Turner Valley. Accompanying Dr. Brown is O. S. Chapin of Calgary, retired businessman, who will act as co-ordinator during the survey.

Dr. Brown has just completed an aerial survey of more than 20,000 square miles in the northwestern United States of the area adjoining Alberta to the south.

COLLECTION

Dr. Brown, whose collection of dinosaurs in New York city is by far the largest in the world, has spent the past 40 years of his life studying these creatures which lived millions upon millions of years ago. He first came to Alberta in 1910 when he made his discoveries in the Red Deer Valley, working here until 1916. While here he will visit the University of Alberta to inspect their specimen of the thick-skulled troodon—most perfect specimen of the kangaroo-like dinosaur yet discovered.

KNOWS TROODON

The Kansas-born scientist speaks calmly of the troodon, which roamed this country 60,000,000 years ago; of the 'iguanodont,' a huge land-going reptile which roamed over Belgium and England 80,000,000 years ago; of the footsteps—15 feet apart—of one of these creatures which lived 140,000,000 years ago. The time is computed by the radioactivity of the rocks in which the specimens are found.

The survey work will begin immediately, and Dr. Brown expects to do most of the photographic work himself.

Committee To Keep Archives Is Nominated

A permanent committee of three to edit and preserve the city's archives, in order to keep intact the record of Edmonton since its incorporation as a municipality in 1892, was nominated at a meeting of the civic nominating committee on Wednesday.

City Commissioner R. J. Gibb, John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and A. E. Ottewell, registrar of the University of Alberta, were named by the committee. The proposal to appoint such a body, to gather and catalogue the city records, was originally made by Ald. J. H. Ogilvie.

Motorcycle Burns As Engine Cranked

A motorcycle which Len Maskell of Vermilion had just purchased from a wrecking company at 10311 99 street burst into flames at 6:14 p.m. Wednesday when an attempt was made to start the machine while it stood in the street in front of the wrecker's. Firemen responded to an alarm and extinguished the blaze with chemicals.

NEW SAREPTA FARMER DIES IN GUN MISHAP

William Stelmacher, 32, Is Victim Of Accident—Leaves 4 Children

William Stelmacher, 32, farmer of the New Sarepta district, 25 miles southeast of Edmonton, was killed when a shotgun accidentally discharged, shooting him in the chest, early Wednesday morning. He was married and the father of four small children.

Stelmacher was riding on a stoneboat on which he was going to haul water from Joseph lake and had taken his double barrelled shotgun. He had the butt resting on the doubletrees and was holding the barrel near the muzzle. He apparently lost his balance and fell forward, one barrel discharging and shooting him below the breastbone. Dr. C. B. Kidd of Leduc, who investigated, stated death was instantaneous and accidental and an inquest would not be necessary.

Mrs. Stelmacher became alarmed when the horses arrived home, about 10.45 a.m., so she went out and found her husband lying dead on the trail.

Otto Gumwold, who was digging a well near the farm, notified Constable Porter and Dr. Kidd at Leduc.

Stelmacher had farmed in the New Sarepta district for about five years. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Hainstock & Son, Edmonton.

COLORED COUPLE NEED PATCHING AFTER QUARREL

J. B. Bowden, colored teamster, and his wife, Beulah, of 10729 98 street, were booked on charges of assault causing actual bodily harm at the city police station following a fight between the man and wife at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

Dr. R. B. Douglas, called to the station after constables J. McMurray and James Newell had brought the two people in, treated the man for a razor cut on the back of his right hand, and scalds on his left arm where, he said, his wife had thrown boiling water on him. The injured man was also nursing a paining head, hurt in the battle.

Treated for cuts on her face and forehead was the woman, whose eye was swollen and bruised as well.

Exhibits brought to the station with the man and woman were a suit of clothes belonging to the husband, but not being worn at the time, which was slashed to ribbons, and a straight razor with the blade sharpened to a wavy edge.

Motor Firm To Double Force Of Employees

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—William Packer, general sales manager of the Packard Motor Car Company, said today a force of 12,000 workers at its Detroit plant may be doubled within the next few weeks.

"We have recovered from the fall slump of 1937," he said. "Business rates about the same as when we hit that drop, but the trend is up instead of down."

Increased sales in "conservative small towns," and a "good used car situation" have contributed to the automobile industry's recovery, Packer declared.

Mother Loses In Race For Life Near Calgary

CALGARY, Oct. 20.—A 27-year-old teacher and mother of two children died in an ambulance as it was racing to the city last night to afford her treatment for an undefined ailment.

Mrs. Myrtle Clinansmith, Carseland, 25 miles southeast of here, was stricken Sunday with what appeared to be a septic throat condition. Paralysis of the throat developed Tuesday. Attempts to keep her alive in the ambulance yesterday failed 12 miles east of the city. Whether infantile paralysis caused death is not known.

Northern Medico Travels By Plane

Dr. Brownridge, C.M.S. medico, makes his out of town visits by plane, for his practice, large in area though small in population, ranges from the Saskatchewan-Alberta boundary to Stony Rapids at the extreme east end of Lake Athabasca and from the lake northward to the Territories.

Monday Dr. Brownridge visited Mrs. Duncan, wife of the H.B. post factor at Fond du Lac. Pilot Murray of C.A.L. from Prince Albert piloted the plane. The Doctor also makes regular visits to various points on the hydro project. As Dr. Brownridge is the only medical man at present in the mining area and is in charge of the C.M.S. hospital, his out of town visits are necessarily very brief and as a rule don't cause his absence to continue more than a few hours.

Autumn Sub-Soil Moisture Makes 1939 Crop Outlook Problematical

BIG VARIANCE IN CONDITIONS FOR GRAINS

Prospects For Next Year's Crops Ranges From Good To Excellent

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—Autumn sub-soil moisture conditions, on which the farmer usually pins his hopes for next year's crop, range from poor to excellent over the three prairie provinces, a survey Wednesday showed. Saskatchewan and Alberta reported conditions fairly promising but Manitoba farmers generally considered the outlook unfavorable at the moment.

However, appearance of soaking rains before frost strikes and plenty of moisture during next spring in the growing season will alter the Manitoba picture.

ALBERTA LOOKS GOOD

Weather bureau officials said the records of precipitation by inches from Sept. 1 showed Saskatchewan so far with 1.90, Alberta 1.72 and Manitoba with .36, far below normal.

Grain firms also reported Manitoba wheat lands suffering from a late summer and fall dry spell. The Searle Grain Company Limited in a review of August and September, described the Manitoba situation as 57 per cent of normal, Saskatchewan 98 and Alberta 93.

Saskatchewan government officials said the situation ran from good to excellent with one poor spot in the extreme south-eastern part of the province where few rains have occurred since the harvest. Alberta authorities, preparing a sub-soil moisture survey for release Nov. 1, described conditions as fair to favorable.

MANITOBA SOIL DRY

Manitoba farmers in areas just south of Winnipeg declared the soil was so dry they were unable to accomplish fall plowing properly. For more than a foot beneath the surface at some points the earth held no moisture.

"There is a distinct below-normal moisture condition in Manitoba this fall," Hon. D. L. Campbell, Manitoba minister of agriculture, said. "I consider that one of the biggest single factors in the next year's crop is moisture we get the fall before. Storing up reserve moisture acts like a bank account in any other business.

"Manitoba lacks that reserve moisture and is more than usually dependent on next spring elements.

The office of the Field Crops Commissioner of Alberta reported moisture conditions favorable in the south and southeast sections of the province. In the central and northern parts they were fair.

The part of the province which grows mostly grains was favored with the moisture this fall. Good rains fell last week in the Hanna district and other points northeast of Calgary extending to the Saskatchewan border.

EDMONTON UNIT WINS TROPHY IN BATTERY TESTS

OTTAWA, Oct. 20. — The 10th Field Battery of St. Catherines, Ont., won the Governor General's and the Stradbrooke cups by earning first place over 86 other units competing for the title of most generally efficient battery in 1938, it was announced last night by the Canadian Artillery Association. The 12th Field Battery of London, Ont., took second place and the Lansdowne Cup.

The following were successful in other field artillery competition: Best battery in Saskatchewan, Wootton Cup, 21st Field Battery, Saskatoon; best battery in Alberta, Cunnington Cup, 96th Field Battery, Edmonton.

The 10th Field Battery scored again in battery gun practice to win from 79 other competitors and was awarded the Oswald Cup.

The Shaughnessy Cup for the brigade showing most general efficiency went to the 8th Field Brigade, Royal Canadian Artillery, Hamilton, Ont.

Wife Offers Odd Reason For Shot Killing Mate

VICTORIA, Oct. 20—Mrs. Sidney Colbourne told an assize court jury last night her husband was accidentally shot to death with his own gun as she prepared to flee with her five-year-old daughter from their suburban Oak Bay cottage last March 31.

Mrs. Colbourne, charged with the murder of the 41-year-old coastal shipworker, testified she was crawling across their bed with one arm around the little girl and holding the gun which she had taken from under Colbourne's pillow while he slept.

The child kicked one of her feet and an explosion followed, the woman testified. She lost consciousness, she said, and when she revived called to her husband but he did not answer.

She put the gun in a chimney hole for safekeeping, then went to a neighboring house where police were called.

Before they went to bed that night, witness told the court, her husband had cursed and struck her when she said she planned to leave him.

The case is expected to go to the jury today.

Russ-Oklahoman

International note: Milada Mladova, a ballerina of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, was born in Oklahoma City of Czechoslovakian parents—and learned to dance in France.

Speaking of premiere ballerinas, it seems there's a fine kettle of fish loose in the Ballet Russe, right now. A lady named Danilova is currently faced with some sprightly competition from the younger set. Danilova is not only a top-flight dancer but she was an associate of Diaghileff, who did for the ballet what Walt Disney did for the animated cartoon. This gives her prestige, and hence the right to perform certain dances. But last year, a couple of youngsters started muscling in on Danilova's prerogatives, and this year Toumanova, Markova, Slavenska and Theilade are all on her heels, figuratively speaking, and fighting one another, on the side.

World Woes Attributed to Various Doctrines of Isms

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20—Roman Catholic leaders at the eighth National Eucharistic congress on Wednesday attacked political and philosophical "isms" which they blamed for the world's woes.

Fascism, communism, paganism, materialism and naturalism were assailed as instruments of religious and political suppression and racial persecution.

Monsignor Francis J. Haas, of the Catholic university, Washington, said the inherent rights of individuals and families were being invaded if not threatened with destruction.

"It is enough," he said, "to point to the spread of communism, fascism, racism and social injustice. Unnecessary to add they propose a weltanschaung, a philosophy of life totally at variance with fundamental Christian concepts."

Even certain democracies, unnamed, were criticized by the monsignor.

"At present the peoples of the world are living under either authoritarian or democratic governments," he said. "The authoritarian, whether communist or fascist, are functionally governments of terrorism. The principal democracies are thinly-veneered economic dictatorships based on class struggle."

Stop Signal Too Much Like Nazi Salute Is Claim

United Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A letter to Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine protesting that the immemorial "stop" gesture of traffic patrolmen looked too much like the Nazi salute had the department in considerable of a stew today.

It was reported that Valentine had issued secret orders to traffic squad commanders to figure out a new signal.

One policeman suggested that they equip themselves with "wig-wag flags, like Boy Scouts," and another recommended that they all be sent to school to learn how to wiggle their ears.

A. B. Cameron Dies

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Alfred Buell Cameron, 75, retired Toronto lawyer and member of a prominent Canadian family, died last night at his home. His great grandfather, William Buell of Brockville, was publisher of the first newspaper in Ontario.

ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK NOV. 4 ON NEW DEAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Interest in President Roosevelt's scheduled broadcast from Hyde Park Nov. 4 is keyed to a high pitch because of the expectation he will say something about the next legislative phase of the New Deal.

Mr. Roosevelt has played three distinct roles in the 1938 campaign, defining them himself. He has spoken as president, as leader of the democratic party, and now has reserved the right also to speak Nov. 4 as a New York state voter. There are increasing indications what he says that night as President will overshadow in importance what he may say to fellow New York voters about the state campaign.

For the President to go on the air four days before a congressional election is in itself a novelty in United States politics.

The speech could provide Mr. Roosevelt opportunity to explain the circumstances abroad which prompted him to order a new study of national armaments. There is some feeling in Washington the President will find it expedient to reassure peace advocates it is purely a defensive move.

Heavy Rain Halts Quebec Bush Fire

AVOCA, Que., Oct. 20. — Heavy rain last night halted progress of a roaring bush fire near this farming community on the north side of the Ottawa river, seven miles from Hawkesbury, Ont. Lumber operators estimated damage at about $150,000.

Old Railroader Dies

CRANBROOK, B.C., Oct. 20.—Cranbrook Wednesday lost one of its oldest residents when George Graeme Hunter died at hospital. Born in Scotland 76 years ago, he came here with the railway construction men in 1898 and has resided here since.

Only three American fliers (Charles Lindbergh, Wiley Post and Howard Hughes) have ever been awarded the Harmon International Trophy for outstanding achievements.

ATTLEE WARNS MUNICH PEACE CONSEQUENCES

Says National Effort Can Not Be Achieved By Dragooning

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A warning against dragooning and ordering people about in the name of national effort was sounded Wednesday by Clement Attlee, opposition leader in the house of commons, in an address to the National Trades Union club.

Mr. Attlee's speech followed an appeal by Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary, for national unity to organize the nation for defence, and a statement by the executive committee of the opposition Liberal party that it was ready o "co-operate whole-heartedly with men and women of all parties who realize the gravity of the time."

"It is nonsense to think (Prime Minister) Chamberlain brought back from Munich peace for a generation, for a day or even for five minutes," Attlee declared.

"The economic consequences of the Prime Minister's peace are going to be felt in a very few months. In industry and in the political field attacks will be made on our liberties. I believe that's folly. National effort can not be achieved by dragooning and ordering people about. What is needed is the willing co-operation of the people."

HOWE EXPLAINS RAILWAY MODE OF PROCEDURE

Minister Relates Why No Local Man Is Director Vancouver Hotel

By THOMAS WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—Hon. C. D. Howe, returning Wednesday from the west, explained why no Vancouver representatives have been put on the board of the new Vancouver hotel.

"The Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act makes it mandatory that only directors of the Canadian National shall be directors of any of its subsidiaries," Mr. Howe told The Bulletin.

NAME OWN OFFICIALS

"As the law stands therefore only Canadian National directors could be appointed by us to the hotel board. We had no option; we could not appoint any one else.

"The Canadian Pacific has evidently taken the same view and appointed three of its own people to the board. So long as the law stands I do not see how we can do anything about it."

CLAUSE MANDATORY

The clause was put in the original act to put an end to political appointees to the subsidiary companies of the Canadian National; the amended act making it mandatory that only bona fide directors of the company should go on any board in which the Canadian National has an interest.

No formal announcement was made of the appointment of directors, the first intimation being the appearance in the Canada Gazette of the hotel company incorporation and the list of directors in the letters of incorporation. Usually directors named in the Gazette are dummy directors for the purposes of incorporation and are changed when a company gets going. In this case the real directors were named by the railway companies at the outset.

Savage Says New Zealand To Pay Debts

WELLINGTON, Oct. 20.—Prime Minister Michael Savage, whose Labor government won an overwhelming victory in last Saturday's general election, Wednesday promised the United Kingdom that New Zealand would meet its financial obligations "in full."

Mr. Savage added New Zealand would do all in its power to aid Czechoslovak refugees but said no official overtures thus far had been made to the New Zealand government.

Weather Changing Down Through Ages Is So Much Nonsense Asserts Expert

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Sir Frederic Stupart, 34 years director of the Meteorological Service of Canada until his recent retirement, says all the talk about the weather changing down through the ages is just so much nonsense.

"I've been looking through the records of the Jesuit Fathers and the weather then was just about the same as now," Sir Frederic said Wednesday when reporters interviewed him regarding his coming 81st birthday.

"About 15 years ago I prepared a paper on 'Is The Weather Changing' and came to the conclusion that it was not. In records of 2,000 years ago there are evidences the climate in the Holyland is not very different from what it was then."

There are "fluctuations or pulsations" every so often, he admitted. There was a period of cold winters in the 1870's and a mild spell in the 1830's. The coldest period in the last 150 years was around 1815 and 1816.

Sir Frederic was willing, too, to help explode the myth about the groundhog and his shadow. The activity of squirrels and a big nut harvest doesn't mean it will be a cold winter and no one will ever be able to produce a satisfactory rain by shattering the clouds with bombs, he added.

U.S. ARMY IS SPEEDING UP REARMAMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—War department orders for munitions totalling $19,187,050 in six weeks, provided a hint Wednesday that the United States army is speeding up rearmament in anticipation of President Roosevelt's new defence proposals.

Latest orders, announced yesterday, totalled more than $9,000,000. They accounted for the bulk of nearly $61,000,000 which congress voted this year for anti-aircraft guns, tanks, powder and bombs.

Dies At Pool Game

CALGARY, Oct. 20.—John Cusack, 58-year-old salesman, died seated in a chair watching a game in a downtown billiard parlor here late Wednesday.

Lives of Athletes Can Be Saved by Not Touching Injured Ahead of Doctor

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Lives can be saved on football fields by letting injured players lie untouched until a physician can look them over. This suggestion was made Wednesday to the American College of Surgeons by its retiring president, Dr. Frederic A. Besley of Waukegan, Ill.

"Never lift an injured person or his head," the brief states, "until he has told you whether he can move his legs or fingers.

"If he cannot move his fingers, his neck is broken."

But at this stage, it was explained, the injuries are not necessarily fatal. Recovery depends largely on the "first move." A physician knows how to have an injured person picked up and carried away without giving the broken vertebrae a chance to cut or damage the spinal cord.

Evidence of discovery of a new abdominal disease was reported by Burrill B. Crohn, M.D., of New York. It is a trouble in the small intestines which he called "regional or terminal ilfitis."

Its effects are serious digestive troubles, ranging from nausea to discomfort, acute upsets and occasionally fever. The area in which it can occur is about 20 feet long.

One of several short sections, Dr. Crohn said, may become inflamed or enlarged or undergo thickening of the walls. He reported six years study to verify existence of the malady, supported by work of other surgeons.

JURY REFUSES INDICT AGED MERCY SLAYER

MINEOLA, N.Y., Oct. 20.—A grand jury refused to indict Harry Johnson, 65, for the self-confessed mercy killing of his cancer-stricken wife.

Johnson, confined now to hospital by a heart ailment, told officials he had agreed to put his 63-year-old wife to death Oct. 1 after she pleaded with him to save her from further suffering. She had lived in agony for years and doctors had told her she was incurable.

Johnson said he piped illuminating gas into the room with a garden hose.

His wife had not eaten for three days before her death, he said.

"She begged me to do it, begged me over and over again. She knew what I was doing. Her eyes were happy at the last, and she smiled."

REINSTATEMENT 5,000 WORKERS NOW ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—The National Labor Board ordered the Republic Steel Corporation Wednesday to offer reinstatement to about 5,000 employees who went on strike in May, 1937.

The board ordered the company to stop interfering with the formation of any labor organization, discouraging membership in the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, or the Steel Workers' organizing committee, and in any way interfering with the rights of self-organization of employees.

The board, in a 100,000-word decision, held that unfair labor practices by the corporation caused its employees to join the "Little Steel" walkout 18 months ago.

If the corporation does not reinstate all the striking employees, it was ordered, it must pay remedial wages.

William Sidley To Face U.S. Court Over Rich Will

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 20.—William Horlick Sidley, 26, said last night he had been served by a deputy sheriff with a notice to appear before a Racine court commissioner Monday for an adverse examination in connection with objections he has filed against the will of his mother Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley, late malted milk heiress.

Mrs. Sidley died July 6 in Toronto at the home of W. Perkins Bull, barrister and financier. Her will, disposing of an estate estimated at $4,000,000, left equal bequests of $250,000 and one-third shares in her residuary estate to Bull and to her son.

U.S. AIMS TO HELP PEOPLE IN DIRE NEED

Wallace Maps Plan to Lower Prices On Food For Needy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Administration farm leaders believe Agriculture Secretary Wallace's scheme to sell surplus foodstuffs to the needy at bargain rates would go far toward solving the United States problem of low farm prices and income.

The unmarketable surpluses, now occupying costly storage space or going to waste while serving to depress prices, would be distributed among millions of relief and low-income families now ill-nourished and poorly clad.

The distribution would be done by what Wallace describes as a "two-price" system. While the underprivileged were buying their food at cut rates, other consumers would pay the regular market price.

The government would act as an intermediary between producers on the one hand and relief consumers on the other.

Some of the products may be bought by the government from the farmer and sold to the needy, either through regular retail stores or government distribution agencies, or both. In the case of other commodities, the government may merely guide the producer and processor in doing the distributing. Any losses incurred by the reduced prices would be borne by the government.

SALARIES GUN FIRM OFFICIALS BEFORE COURT

Hahn, President Of Inglis Concern, Paid $10,000 Annually

OTTAWA, Oct. 20—The proposed salary of Major James E. Hahn as president of the John Inglis Company of Toronto is $10,000 a year, it was disclosed at the Bren gun inquiry Wednesday. Application for approval of this salary was made by the company to the department of national defence under the terms of the company's contract to manufacture 7,000 Bren light machine guns.

Major General L. R. LaFleche, deputy minister of national defence, was on the witness stand all day and was cross-examined by Lieut-Col. George Drew, author of the article in a national magazine which criticized the contract and led to the inquiry.

The contract provides for manufacture of the guns in the Inglis plant on a cost plus 10 per cent basis, the government paying the cost of machinery and equipment required and principle items entering into the cost, including salaries of executive officers and wages. Payment of preliminary engineering and other expenses prior to the signing of the contract March 31, 1938, up to a maximum of $20,000 also is provided for. All such payments are subject to approval of the amounts by the department.

INCOME TAX POWER BEFORE ALBERTA COURT

Question Of Province's Right To Assess Foreign Income Discussed

CALGARY, Oct. 20.—Appellate division of the Alberta supreme court with Chief Justice Horace Harvey presiding, Wednesday was called on to rule on the power of the provincial government to impose income taxes on revenue received from sources outside the province.

On an appeal against a judgment of Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing, who ruled Mrs. C. E. Kerr of Calgary could not be taxed on income received from outside the province, the court reserved decision.

CLAIM DISPUTED

W. H. McLaws, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Kerr, contended that any revenue received by an Alberta resident from any source outside the province was not taxable under the Income Tax Act.

His claim was disputed by W. S. Gray, K.C., of Edmonton, representing the Alberta superintendent of income tax.

A great hardship would be worked on Alberta and other provinces in the Dominion if the claim of Mr. McLaws were upheld, he said.

"It would cut down the province's right to tax," remarked Chief Justice Harvey.

"It would mean no hardship," replied Mr. McLaws. "It only means that the provinces must have regard to their territorial limitations."

AMERICAN REVENUE

The income on which the provincial income tax department claims the right to impose a tax of several thousand dollars, involves revenues received by Mr. Kerr from shares in a United States company.

Dividends on the shares, Mr. Kerr through counsel contended, were never brought into Alberta or spent here. They were used for living expenses during her winter residence in British Columbia and California.

Washington Senses the Danger

The United States is going to do some re-arming, too; or some super-arming, to be more precise. The reason may be found in the despatches coming daily from New York, where a number of persons are on trial for carrying on espionage work in the hire of the Government of Germany. The alleged "spy ring" may conceivably be found to be a myth, or may not be convicted. But what the prosecution signifies is plain enough. The Government of the United States is under no illusion that it can exist in peace if democracy elsewhere in the world is struck down and conquest be the watch-word of powerful war-lords.

Aggression must keep on the march. Dictators have to be militant—whether they want to or not. They must keep their subjects thinking about "enemies" abroad to justify their own arbitrary powers and hold their places. Neither the German people nor the Italian people would long submit to one-man rule if they were not kept at fever heat by representations that they were in danger, or were being denied their rightful "place in the sun". For the same reason that Canada and Australia must look to their defences, the United States must do the same.

As next door neighbors, Canadians will welcome the news from Washington, and it will be hailed with satisfaction also in every other country where free government exists and its perils are rightly understood. Wherever, anywhere in the world, a democracy is today building up its power of resistance, there is cause for approval in every land of liberty. The Trinity of Threat is not a threat to Europe alone. The world is no longer big enough that unarmed peoples can count themselves secure when in Europe and the Orient aggression is throwing treaties to the winds, scoffing at international law and usage, and striking down weak nations.

What Does It All Come To?

Hon. Dr. Manion made his first speech to a western audience as leader of the National Conservative party at Edmonton on Tuesday evening. It was to be supposed he would give an exposition of the new party platform as offering remedies for western needs in particular and nationwide needs in general. Mr. Duggan hinted such a hope in his opening remarks. It cannot be said that Dr. Manion disclosed much in the platform to gratify these expectations, for the reason, many will think, that there is not much to be found there.

His speech was a re-statement of traditional Conservative doctrine, with admissions couched in the most general terms that here and there the "capitalist" machinery would have to be tinkered up if it was to continue to work smoothly or even at all. The ringing demands for reform—unspecified but emphatic—which he made at Saint John, N.B., were conspicuously absent. The man-handling to which those declarations were subjected by the Tory press and headmen at Montreal and Toronto was obviously not forgotten at Edmonton. The address here was, with scarcely an alteration, such a speech as a Conservative leader might have made twenty years ago, and was just that far removed from the concrete problems of the present day.

Dr. Manion said he is for a moderate tariff. But what leader ever admitted he wanted more than that? This was the one outstanding positive declaration he had to make to the people of the west. They have heard it before from his predecessors, and have learned by experience what it means. It is much to be suspected their views on that subject are precisely what they were before they heard the same old policy re-stated in the same old words.

As a corollary, calculated to soften western susceptibilities, Dr. Manion said he would protect the consumer against exploitation under the protective tariff he would like to set up. Westerners have heard that before, too. They heard it no longer ago than in 1931 from Mr. Bennett, and in language much more forceful than that of Dr. Manion. They also know that Mr. Bennett did not make good the promise, for the reason that he couldn't. An older and higher authority than either of them on tariff matters, Sir George Foster, told us long ago that a protective policy was no good unless it raised prices. That statement still stands, and experience has shown that the government which creates the opportunity for price-boosting cannot in practice set bounds beyond which this must not go.

It evidently occurred to Dr. Manion that his speech fell somewhat short of the occasion. He apologized for failing to offer a program by saying he felt no obligation to "prescribe until I am called-in". That rule is sound in the practice of medicine, but not in the practice of politics. For the reason that a doctor does not know what ails the patient until he has been "called in" to examine him. But if Dr. Manion does not know what maladjustments need to be corrected to restore Canada to economic health, he should know. And whether or not he knows what prescriptions are required, he did not tell his Edmonton audience what he thinks should be done. The idea that he should be "called in" on the chance that he may know both the ailment and the best course of treatment is something less than the public are entitled to expect from the leader of a great political party and their alternative choice for the premiership.

Editorial Notes

Someone should say a word on behalf of the much-accused sun spots. If they are not the cause, at least they have not prevented people on this continent enjoying summer weather in October. On Monday it was 86 in New York, 78 in Toronto, at Windsor numbers of people hopped into the bathing places to escape a heat wave of 85 degrees, while at Edmonton cool but beautiful summer days follow each other in unbroken succession.

Germany has made a trade agreement with Poland, by which Germany will exchange machinery for Polish raw materials and foodstuffs. The democracies might learn something from the commercial policy of Der Fuehrer. Whatever his ultimate aims may be, Mr. Hitler has sense enough to know that the way to make friends of other nations is to swap products with them.

The Farmers' Union of Great Britain has issued a protest statement, saying "Not a penny has been voted under the rearmament program for maintenance, let alone expansion, of our fourth line of defence" (food production). What this probably means is that the farmers want bonuses on other products corresponding to those they now receive for producing wheat, along with "price regulation" and "regulation of food imports." The latter demand will interest Canadian farmers also, though in a different way.

Haj Emin Effendi El Husseini, Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, has issued an ultimatum to the British Government. He says he will tell the Arabs in Palestine to stop fighting if the British give up their mandate and agree to the setting up of an independent Arab state there. The modesty of the Effendi's "demands" are only equalled by his prudence in launching them from a safe retreat in Syria. They have all the ear-marks of having been made in Rome.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Insight into the philosophy and aims of Nazi propaganda on this continent was furnished a special House Committee at Washington last week by Arnold Gingrich, editor of "Esquire," "Coronet" and "Ken"—three well-known American publications. Quoting from an alleged German book of "Instructions for Our Friends Overseas" issued to Nazi propagandists working in United States, the editor read: "The fundamental aim must always be to discredit conditions in the United States and thus make life in Germany seem enviable by contrast. It will therefore be to the best interests of the Reich to co-operate secretly will all persons or groups who criticize the American system, regardless on what ground. The line to be taken in all such cases is to exaggerate the strength of Germany and to contrast it with the weakness of the democracies."

NAZI AGENTS HARD AT WORK

Naming a Colonel Nicholai, an old-time supporter of Hitler, as the man in charge of the new American espionage and propaganda section of the German Gestapo, Mr. Gingrich told the committee: "The inside job of the bunds is not merely propaganda and conversion to Nazi ideology, but a military organization for sabotage and espionage in the United States in the event of a European war, whether we are neutral or not. For this ticklish work the leaders are too smart to use suspected aliens, but rely on native Americans."

The editor named a Pasadena man with a criminal record of over 28 years, as one of the native Americans engaged in espionage and arms-smuggling with the knowledge of the German-American Bund and the Italian Embassy at Washington.

Lacking the service of House Committees and Senate investigations which are a feature of American administrative life, we in Canada have not the opportunity to publicly cull and disseminate information. It can safely be assumed, however, that Canada is not overlooked by the German Gestapo in its espionage and propaganda work. The same method which Gestapo agents are instructed to use in United States, "to exaggerate the strength of Germany and to contact it with the weakness of the democracies" will be employed by Gestapo agents in Canada. It may be one way of identifying them.

HOW TO TELL A GESTAPO AGENT

The Nazi movement in Germany in its early days was largely financed by wealthy American corporations and individuals in United States, who were solicited on the ground that the Nazi party would protect their investments in Germany from the Social Democrats. Correspondence was filed with the House Committee showing that leaders of the Silver Shirts (an alleged American Nazi organization) had been in conference with officers of Republic Steel Corporation during the fight between that Company and the C.I.O.'s Steel Workers' Organizing Committee.

When the name of one Silver Shirt member, Miss Susan Sterling of Cleveland, appeared in correspondence, Editor Gingrich supplied the information that "Miss Susan Sterling" is an alias assumed by a German-American woman whose real name is Elsie Theuer. The correspondence with Susan told of the organization "going under cover," and of hopes to raise money "from the source with the wherewithal to do it."

From out all this miasma of espionage, subversive propaganda, and corruption, one tribute of honesty appears. It is in the very midst of adjurations to deception, blooming like a lily on a dung-hill. It is in the alleged Gestapo "Instructions for Our Friends Overseas," and is a striking tribute to the incorruptibility of the press of this continent. It precedes the portion quoted in the first portion of this column and reads as follows: "German propaganda in the United States must be handled more tactfully than it has been done before. It will not be possible to subsidize American newspapers except in very rare cases—and only newspapers of minor importance."

CAN'T BUY UP THE PRESS

Tribute from such a source is tribute indeed.

Sometimes it pays to have a friend practice a practical joke on you. Manfred Meyberg of Los Angeles cabled his friend John Bodger, visiting in Ireland, asking him to buy him the Blarney Stone. Bodger did the next best thing. He shipped Meyberg ten tons of rock from a quarry at Blarney. When news of the joke leaked out, Meyberg was inundated with requests from jewellery firms and Irish folks wanting to buy bits of the stone.

A JOKE THAT MADE PROFITS

I once told in this column of a writing friend, G. H. Gilroy-Moore who, to satisfy a friend who wanted a bit of real Irish bog oak, sent $10 to the priest of his native Irish parish, with a request that he get two of his flock to drag the bog and ship him by express a "bit of real Irish bog oak."

"Gil" hadn't counted on the generous nature of his countrymen. A few weeks later he received notice from the C.P.R. that there awaited his order, "charges collect," a shipment that had arrived by express of 1,500 pounds of bog oak.

And, like the ten tons of Blarney rock, once word got round, there was no difficulty in disposing of the embarrassing shipment to lovers of Irish tradition.

PIE FOR THE NEWSBOY

On a visit to the city, the doctor's gentle-faced wife had gone to the automat for lunch. There she saw a newsboy dining on a roll and a cup of coffee. So as she passed his table she slipped a dime under his plate, with a soft-spoken, "Get a piece of pie, too." Which he did, stopping by the table of his friend to say a sparkling-eyed "Thank you."

That is the sort of incident that imparts a glow to the heart; for every character in it behaved perfectly. The generous mother instinct of Mrs. Doctor was matched by the courtesy of the newsboy. And even the angels in heaven, who are not uninterested in small boys' appetites, must have smiled in gratification.

Make us wise in love's little wayside ministries, our Father; and grateful for all such that we receive. Amen.

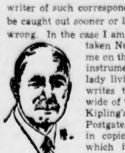
Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

London, Eng.—(By Mail)—"The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding small"—which, being interpreted means that the writer of such correspondence as this is sure to be caught out sooner or later if he gets his facts wrong. In the case I am about to adduce it has taken Nemesis two years to tap me on the shoulder, through the instrumentality of an English lady living at Kaslo, B.C., who writes to tell me that I was wide of the mark in saying that Kipling's war story, "Mary Postgate," was to be found only in copies of the magazine in which it originally appeared, having been excluded from his collected works.



J. E. NORCROSS

The Kaslo lady is quite right. "Mary Postgate" was printed in the volume of short stories entitled "A Diversity of Creatures" published in 1917 and, I am informed, has been included in the standard Kipling editions ever since.

"Mary Postgate" was written in 1915, soon after Kipling's son was killed at Loos. It is a bitter story. It tells how an even-tempered, unimaginative middle-class Englishwoman, having just seen a child killed by a German bomb in an English village, an outrage for which there was no excuse whatever, returned home to find a German aviator who had fallen out of his airplane dying in the garden.

She let him die.

"Mary Postgate" had been almost forgotten for twenty years when in September, 1936, as I told at the time, Oliver Baldwin, the Socialist son of Lord Baldwin, giving an address on "Kipling, the Man," declared that "Mary Postgate" was the wickedest short story ever written in the history of the world. This was a few months after the death of Kipling, who was first cousin to Lord Baldwin.

According to Mr. Oliver Baldwin the war had changed Kipling from a great human being to a man with a great sorrow.

"It broke him completely," he said. "All the lovely side of his nature—all the 'Jungle Book,' all the playing with children, all the love for people—went like that.

"He concentrated himself on revenge. He looked upon me to be the one to revenge his son against the German people."

All this was promptly denied by admirers and old friends. As to "Mary Postgate," it was pointed out that many people had felt like that at the time.

Incidentally, it was stated with the authority of a leading newspaper that "Mary Postgate" had been deliberately left out of the Kipling canon and that it would not be reprinted at least as long as Mrs. Kipling lived as she would not consent to it—the bit of misinformation that led the present writer astray.

Your Health

By DR. FRANK McCOY

The walnut has been used for food from a very early time and this edible nut is possibly the most popular of all nuts. The walnut is a deciduous tree which has been grown for both the wood and the nut. The tree is a native of Greece, Persia, Chile and China and is also found in other countries. It is quite likely that the Romans brought the first "persian" walnuts to Great Britain, probably introducing the nut during the time that Roman soldiers occupied that country. The descendants of these trees are what we call English walnuts.

Incidentally a literal translation of the word walnut is "foreign nut" and this name was probably pinned on it when the foreign soldiers of Rome first brought the tree to English soil. The English walnut has a shell which is easier to crack than the shell of the American black walnut.

The walnut has a noted history, for example, in Frankfort in 1664 records show that no young man was allowed to marry until he proved that he had planted a certain number of walnut trees. The walnut was a favorite in Burgundy and was thought to keep the ground warm.

Walnut culture is now an extensive industry and the work done in the walnut groves of California deserves special mention. The walnut also grows in Chile, in which country the crop is ready about March or April, whereas in California, it is gathered in the fall.

Orchards consisting of selected trees will yield as high as one or two thousand pounds of cured nuts to a single acre and in the finest varieties, only thirty-five to forty nuts will be needed to weigh a full pound.

During the growing period the walnut is covered with a green husk which later turns brown as the nut becomes ripe. This husk is easily removed, leaving the smooth, light outer shell which is readily broken, allowing one to get at the kernel inside.

After the nuts are dried or cured, the kernel will contain about four percent of moisture, about eighteen percent of protein, about sixteen percent of carbohydrate and about fifty percent of oil. The food value is high, due to the protein, carbohydrate and oil. Walnuts should be classed with the highly concentrated foods and when using them I advise they be combined with foods of low caloric value, such as the non-starchy vegetables or the fruits. You will find that ten or twelve halves of walnuts, combined with apples, will provide a satisfying luncheon.

The kernel of a walnut of a superior grade will be well filled out, and the flavor will be rich and bland. The outer shell will be light in color and will crack easily so that the meats may be removed in halves if desired. The inner divisions which divide the kernel into lobes will be almost of a paper thinness.

The walnut has a pleasing taste which explains its great popularity. I consider the walnut among the most wholesome nuts and advise that you learn to use it for the purpose of adding variety to the diet. Make sure that it is finely ground either through chewing it thoroughly or through putting it through a food grinder before using.

Remember, nuts are probably the most concentrated food that exists in a natural condition, and let this concentrated food value guide you in combining nuts with other foods.

Italian Army's Health

Editor, Bulletin: Dr. Aldo Castellani, K.C.M.G., Italian High Consultant and Inspector General of the medical units in East Africa and the Red Sea, describes the hygienic methods employed in connection with the Italian forces in the recent Abyssian campaign. (British Medical Journal, April, 1938):

The comparatively small number of dysentery cases were due to pure drinking water and the cleanly habits of the men. No vaccines were used. Those containing the Shiga-Kruse bacillus caused severe reactions. Regarding oral vaccines, Dr. Castellani had not been able to convince himself that they were really efficacious. No cases of typhus were reported, thanks to the imposition of rigorous cleanliness.

The men were inoculated against typhoid and paratyphoid, and there were 458 cases with 161 deaths. Obviously the only real protection against disease was cleanliness.

Stands for Socialism

Editor, Bulletin: In the columns of The Bulletin of October 11, there was a report of a speech given by George H. Williams, leader of the C.C.F. in the Saskatchewan legislature.

He declares a sharp distinction existed between socialism and communism; that communism and fascism were alike in that they sought to impose an economic system on the people, willy-nilly. He said that the C.C.F., on the other hand, desires socialism to be achieved democratically and was therefore the middle course between communism and fascism.

Mr. Williams is either politically very immature or else is deliberately confusing his hearers by such statements, and makes for disruption amongst progressive people.

Socialism, we contend, is only a step toward the goal of communism, but it is a long step. The Communist party stands for socialism. But we repudiate now as in the past all theories looking to the forcible imposition of socialism upon the majority of the people. Such concepts are utterly and completely foreign to the Communist party. We never did and never will hold to a program of forcible establishment of socialism against the will of the people. The Communist program and policy rests exclusively upon the democratic will of the people. No genuine democrat need harbor any fears of the Communist party.

The whole world has seen the Soviet Union standing resolutely for peace. The fascist war-mongers have rattled sabres, broken pledges, and invaded one peaceful country after another. In the U.S.S.R. social services have been vastly extended, wages raised, prices lowered, and cultural and educational facilities greatly enlarged. Racial minorities in that great country have found equal and humane treatment.

In Germany and Italy the reverse of this is true. Toscannini and Einstein, bear witness to the death of culture and higher learning in the fascist states, and the oppression and hardship meted out to those who have a mind above the bloody injustices of fascism and nazism.

Certainly let us obtain our objective by constitutional means, Mr. Williams, if we can do it. But we can also learn from history. We can observe that German and Austrian peoples did not obtain socialism, but fascism, with their Social Democratic parties for "peaceful" transformation. The Spanish people when they elected their people's government of Liberals, democrats of all hue (not a communist, mind, in the whole assembly) trade unionists, etc., found themselves faced with a struggle to the death against those people who will not allow the people to govern. Canadian people must be prepared to use every constitutional means to gain their rights, and to resist any force and aggression that may be employed by those who would deny the common people their heritage.

On This Date

By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date (Oct. 20, 1849) it was officially announced that the ministry of the province of Canada (LaFontaine-Baldwin) had decided that the seat of government should be transferred from Montreal (where the Parliament House had been burned down the previous April) to Toronto. Lord Elgin's comments upon the decision are interesting.

"LaFontaine is much against the plan, but except a sort of vague idea that by means of a great fight we might subdue the faction and restore order in Montreal, he seems to me to have nothing to offer to justify remaining there. My own conviction is that our return to Montreal at present would give a great impulse to the annexation movement in Upper Canada and that the members would not pass a session there (Montreal) in the present temper of men's minds without being themselves to a great extent corrupted. At the same time I am quite aware that the removal will do some mischief among the French.

"In order to meet this difficulty as we best may we have determined to act on the suggestion of the assembly itself and to adopt the principle of alternate parliaments. A plan of leaving Montreal for one session with the view of obtaining additional powers did not obtain much support. We all feel that the evil is of a moral and chronic character, that it is intensely aggravated by the presence of the seat of government, and that it cannot be eradicated by force. When I say 'all' I mean the English councillors, for perhaps some of the French think differently."

Toronto took the news with acclaim, of course, and, as Lord Elgin pointed out, it was a good transaction from a financial point of view, for the old Parliament House of Upper Canada was there, needing only to be cleaned, and provide a home for the parliament of the province of Canada until 1852, when the capital was removed to Quebec, to be returned to Toronto 1856 and remain until 1860, when a new transfer was made to Quebec. There the government remained until 1866 when the new capital, Ottawa, was inaugurated.

A strong recommendation for the opening of a liquor vendor's in Bonnyville will be sent to the Liquor Control Board by the Village of Bonnyville council it was decided following a meeting of councillors held Saturday.

The light and power situation was also up for discussion and permission will be sought from the Board of Utilities to extend invitations to persons or concerns interested in starting another light plant in Bonnyville. Present conditions were judged unsatisfactory.

ADRIANA CASELOTTI

daughter of Guido Caselotti, vocal instructor of the Metropolitan Opera, furnished the melodious voice for Snow White in Walt Disney's history-making animated cartoon "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." She got the job three years ago when she overheard Disney ask her father, over the telephone, for his aid in finding somebody for the part. Adriana yelled into an extension phone, "Me, me; how about me?" Artists also used her features for Snow White's facial expressions.

Snow White, Prince, Suing Walt Disney

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—Snow White and Prince Charming have gone to court in an attempt to collect $300,000 from Walt Disney.

Adriana Caselotti, the voice of the heroine in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and Harry Stockwell, who sang and spoke for the prince, filed separate suits against Disney Productions, Ltd., and the R. C. A. Manufacturing company.

They charged the defendants had violated their contracts by making records from the film's sound track without their consent. Disney's representatives claimed their contracts covered all rights.

Stockwell, who said he had been paid $500, asked $100,000. "Snow White," whose soft soprano netted her $1,000, sued for $200,000.

LLOYDMINSTER

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IS HELD AT LLOYD

Over eighty delegates for both town and rural Sunday Schools were in attendance at the sixth annual Interdenominational Sunday School workers' convention held in Lloydminster on Tuesday. Both afternoon and evening sessions were filled with valuable addresses dealing with all phases of Sunday School work including "keeping the older boys in the Sunday School," "The Sunday School on the Prairies" "Methods of teaching the Bible", "Enlisting the Sunday School Teachers", "The value of the Sunday School in my Community", "The home and Sunday School".

Throughout all of the discussions it was evident that it was the general opinion among Sunday School workers that the average parent does not take sufficient interest in the work of the school, thereby not keeping their childern's interest as great as it should be. Delegates were present from as far west as Edmonton, and as far north as Sunday Schools are known to exist within travelling distance to Lloydminster, and from Chauvin to the south. Every Protestant denomination was represented.

NIPPON PATROL MAINTAINED MANCHUKUO

Japs Not Worrying About Russia In Drive On China

H. O. Thompson of the United Press Far East staff is touring the borders of Japan's Manchukuan protectorate to report on military conditions in areas where Japanese and Soviet Russian armies have been facing each other since the present Chinese-Japanese war started. His dispatch follows.—EDITOR.

By H. O. THOMPSON

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

HAILAR, Northwest Manchukuo, via Shanghai, Oct. 20.—The Japanese Kwantung army, reinforced by Manchu and Mongol horsemen of Japan's Manchukuan protectorate, is ready for any "diversion" Soviet Russia may attempt as result of Japan's invasion of south China and the anticipated early Japanese capture of Nationalist China's provisional capital in Hankow.

Thousands of Japanese soldiers are strung along Manchukuo's northern and eastern frontiers.

I flew to this outpost, within 125 miles of the Soviet border, last week to learn what the outlook is now that Japan has risked a vast new campaign in south China, by her drive on Canton. What I have seen convinced me that:

DO NOT FEAR SOVIETS

1—The Japanese do not expect new Soviet attacks on the borders of their Manchu and Korean protectorates, similar to those which occurred in late July and early August when Japanese pressure on Hankow first became acute, but they are taking no chances and are strengthening their defenses.

2—Japanese army commanders on the Soviet frontier are convinced that Japan could take on Russia's vast independent far eastern army in addition to China, if necessary, but they do not think any action against Russia should be considered now if it possibly can be avoided.

3—The Japanese are convinced that Russia started the Korean border fighting around Changkufeng Hill late last summer deliberately and that their reason was to assist China by forcing Japan to withdraw some of her best troops from the Hankow sector to the Soviet frontier.

4—The Japanese assert that the victories of their German near-allies in Europe have forced Russia to change her whole military policy and have changed the situation which prevailed here in August.

MONGOLIA IMPORTANT

5—Japan rapidly is welding Inner Mongolia into a strong buffer state which counteracts the military importance of Russia's Outer Mongolian protectorate.

6—The prospect of any new Russo-Japanese war is remote since Japan will have her hands full in China for a long time while Russia, facing Germany's eastward drive in Europe, obviously will hesitate to embark on any sort of an adventure in the Far East.

It is significant that there has been no border clash, similar to the scores which took place prior to Changkufeng, in recent weeks, despite the fact the Japanese are extending their lines and strengthening their fortifications.

In a week's tour of the Hailar area I was, naturally, not permitted to see details of the Japanese defense system but I was shown enough to convince me that Japan is in this part of the world to stay and that she will go forward rather than retreat.

Hugh M. Peacock Gives Fur Census

The field day held at Zenith Fox ranch in Erskine was well attended, representatives from seventeen fox ranches being present. Many fine foxes were put on the table and examined and their good points stressed and their poor ones pointed out. Hugh M. Peacock, representing Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Association, acted as judge and complimented the ranchers on the quality of their stock and spoke encouragingly of the outlook for the business, basing his statement on the census he is able to obtain in his travels through the west, saying that from 20 to 25 per cent of the stock will be sacrificed this year which will increase the number of pelts on the 1938 market 200,000 and will tend to lower this year's price or at least the price cannot be expected to be above last year's. The following year there will be 600,000 pelts less on the market and the price would naturally be expected to rise, since Norway is adopting the same principles.

Electing as their new president, Mrs. W. J. Young, members of the Royal Ladies' Lawn Bowling club met for dinner in the Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening when in addition to the election of officers, activities of the past season were reviewed.

Approximately 40 were in attendance at the affair.

Assisting Mrs. Young on the executive will be Mrs. Stella Robinson, first vice-president; Mrs. D. Forbes, second vice-president; Mrs. A. B. MacKenzie, secretary; Mrs. J. S. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Schlader, Jackson cup convener; Mrs. W. Laube, social convener; Mrs. W. Hutchinson, Mrs. G. Elliott, Mrs. W. Glover and Mrs. A. Bonneau, executive committee.

Mrs. Beach Is Honored Prior To Departure

Bidding good-bye to their president, Mrs. Floyd K. Beach, who with her husband is leaving the city shortly for Calgary where they will make their home in the future, members of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Handicraft Guild meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Boyd McBride, vice-president of the branch, presented her with a little handbag as a parting gift.

Tea was served later in the afternoon, with Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr and Mrs. J. E. Underwood sharing honors over the teacups and Miss Alison McBride and other members of the Guild assisting in serving.

Arrangements for their handicraft tea to be held on Saturday afternoon, November 12, in the Senate chamber of the University of Alberta were made during the afternoon. Members of the Women's University Club who will be meeting on that afternoon will be asked to join them at the tea hour. Mrs. McBride told members of having seen the Alberta made rug on display at the Glasgow Exhibiton this summer.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Multiple Birth Is Discussed By Speaker

Triplets are born, on the average, once in every 7,000 births, Dr. Winnifred Hughes, assistant professor of zoology, declared at the opening lecture of the 1938-39 series presented by the University of Alberta philosophical society on Wednesday evening.

Dr. Hughes' illustrated lecture was entitled "The Biology of Twins."

Average birth of twins, she said, is one out of 85 births, while that of quaduplets is one out of 670,000 births, she added.

There have been two or three sets of quintuplets born in Canada in the last sixty years, Dr. Hughes said. The first set was born in Nova Scotia and died at the end of one day, but pictures of them have been preserved.

Pointing out that there are two sets of twins, based on physical characteristics — "identical" and "fraternal." Dr. Hughes said that the Dionne quintuplets are fraternal.

Discussion of "freak twins" by the lecturer formed one of the highlights of her address.

A snake born with two heads was killed because these heads warred upon each other, she said.

Multiple births are produced with varying frequency in different countries, she told her audience.

Science draws the line at the birth of sextuplets, though one doctor in the distant past claimed to have been present at the birth of 30 infants.

That statement could only have been made, Dr. Hughes smiled, in the days when careful reporting of cases was not yet the rule.

Dinner Party Arranged By C.C.Y.M.

Entertaining its members at dinner and dancing, the C.C.Y.M. arranged a delightful evening's entertainment in the Corona hotel on Wednesday. Attractive vases of autumn flowers in tones of pink and yellow and harmonizing tapers graced the dinner tables.

Mr. H. D. Ainlay, honorary president of the organization was the guest speaker while other speakers were Mr. William Runte, provincial president of the C.C.Y.M. and Junior U.F.A.; Mr. William Thornton, who spoke for the Provincial executive; Miss Mraguerite McCollum, who spoke for the national executive and Mr. Ben Samuel, president of the Edmonton branch.

Mr. Norman Winterburn entertained with sleight of hand tricks.

Approximately 50 guests were in attendance.

Does Your Breath Broadcast—"I WEAR FALSE TEETH"?
Play Safe—Be Sure—Use Polident

Most people, who wear plates or bridges suffer from a special kind of bad breath. Dentists call it—"denture breath."

You won't know if you have it—but it can spoil your happiness. Friends will shudder—people avoid you! And the worst of it is that ordinary brushing cannot prevent it. Neither will mouth washes. For the odor comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum soaks up germs and decay bacteria and causes a vile odor that you cannot detect.

One thing can stop "denture breath"—and that's Polident! This new brushless cleaner has won the approval of thousands of dentists. Users say it's a blessing. Polident not only purifies false teeth—but also removes all stain, tarnish and deposits. Makes breath sweeter—plates look better and feel better. Costs only 40¢ at any drug store and lasts for many weeks. Money back if not delighted.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic
Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

Jean Cumiskey Is Bride At Fall Wedding

Wesley United Church at the hour of eight o'clock on Wednesday evening was the setting for a colorful Autumn ceremony when Jean Dunlop Cumiskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Cumiskey of Cloverdale, Britsh Columbia, became the bride of Allan Hugh Mitchell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mitchell of Edmonton.

FLORAL SETTING

Performed by the Rev. E. T. Scragg, the ceremony was conducted amid the profusion of fall flowers and fern that adorned the pretty church for the occasion. Clusters of flowers tied with satin ribbons marked the guest pews, and the flower banked altar before which the bridal party stood, made a pretty contrast to the frocks of the bride and her attendants.

Interest of many friends in social and professional circles is centred in the marriage for the bride is a graduate of the General Hospital, Edmonton, and well known in nursing circles here. The bridegroom is known, too, in business circles here and will, following a short honeymoon trip to the south, bring his bride back to the city where they will make their home in the future.

EXQUISITELY GOWNED

A lovely frock of glistening white taffeta was the gown the bride chose for her wedding. Patterned on modish lines, the dress was fashioned with slender fitting bodice and full bouffant skirt which fell into a slight train at the back.

Appliqued flowers in white chiffon velvet sewn onto the skirt and bodice made a pretty note of contrast to the taffeta background, and matched the tiny bolero jacket the bride wore. A chapel veil of softest white silk net fell softly about her face and shoulders and was crowned at her head by a cluster of lilies of the valley.

Long white gloves and dainty white slippers completed her ensemble and she carried in her arms a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

ATTENDANTS IN SCARLET

Attending the bride were Mrs. E. Barnes as matron of honor and Miss Germaine Quilichini as bridesmaid. A taffeta frock in red fashioned on period lines, with flaring skirt and tight-fitting bodice was the dress Mrs. Elden wore. Features of the dress were tiny puffed sleeves and squared neckline. Miss Quilichini wore a model of red georgette fashioned on similar lines to that of Mrs. Elden's frock.

Both wore at their heads, pretty doll hats made of pure white baby chrysanthemums tied together with red ribbons and both carried bouquets of white mums. Their accessories were in white.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Cumiskey. Mr. Kenneth Park was best man.

Wedding marches were played by Mr. Stewart Roberts and during the ceremony Mrs. Roberts sang very appropriately, "I Love You Truly."

Ushers were Mr. Gordon Rundle, Mr. Eldar Barnes and Mr. L. McRae.

WEDDING SUPPER

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mme. P. A. Dow in 113 street. Receiving with Mme. Dow was Mrs. A. Mitchell, mother of the bridegroom and Mrs. J. O'Donnell.

Mme. Dow wore for the occasion a smart gown of black lace, relieved by a corsage of bright red roses at her shoulder. Mrs. Mitchell chose black also, a tailored frock brightened by a corsage of creamy talisman roses. Mrs. O'Donnell chose a mauve-purple gown of velvet with shoulder cluster of cream roses.

PRETTY TABLE

The bride's table was set with linen cloth of white and centred with the lovely tiered wedding cake. Roses in pink tones adorned the cake, and tapers at either end of the table matched the flowers. Streamers from each corner of the table were looped prettily to the overhanging chandelier and formed a canopy for the table.

Assisting with passing of refreshments to the guests were Mrs. L. McRae, Mrs. Gordon Rundle, Miss Grace Hunter and Mrs. W. Long.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left by train for the south where they will honeymoon briefly. To travel the bride was smartly attired in a costume of beige and green. Her frock, hat, gloves, bag and shoes were in green and her top coat in beige trimmed with darker fur. Her flowers were a corsage of tawny roses.

They will make their home in Edmonton upon their return.

Wedding Rites Enhanced By Vocal Music

With the choir of which the bride was a member until just recently providing a delightful musical background, the marriage of Jean Kenyon McGregor and Andrew Ferguson of Tofield was solemnized in Strathcona Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening at one of the most prettily arranged ceremonies of the month.

WIDELY INTERESTING

The bride, who is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McGregor, is popularly known in church and professional circles, having taken prominent part in various activities at Strathcona Presbyterian church, and having been for the past several years associated with the staff of the Alberta Government Telephones. The wedding is also of interest to many in Tofield, for the bridegroom is the second son of Mrs. Margaret Ferguson and the late Mr. Matthew Ferguson of that district.

Shaggy yellow chrysanthemums were arranged throughout the church and massed about the altar where Rev. R. J. Burton performed the eight o'clock ceremony.

TROPICAL BLUE VELVET

Given away by her brother, Mr. Andrew McGregor, the bride was gowned most becomingly in an ankle-length model of tropical blue velvet made with a tiny bolero jacket and softly flaring skirt. Silver flowers were a contrasting note at the neckline and her slippers were also in silver. The halo hat set far back on her head was of velvet to match her gown and she wore long mittens in the same shade. Her only ornament was a string of pearls and deep tinted roses, pink and white carnations and sprays of heather comprised the bridal bouquet.

SIMILAR GOWNS

Frocked in similar gowns of pansy colored satin fashioned with shirred bodices, full skirts and short puffed sleeves, Miss Thelma McGregor of Vancouver and Miss Edna Burgess acted as bridesmaids. Tiny doll hats made of pansies topped their coiffures and in their arms they carried bouquets of chrysanthemums shading from yellow to rust.

Two little nieces of the bride, Ella Potts and Fay Inglis, were the flower girls and wore for the occasion brief little frocks in petal pink. Little Ella Potts was in a jacketed model of pink taffeta, made with tiny blue rose-buds on the skirt, and wore in her hair a spray of pink roses and blue forget-me-nots, while Fay wore pink georgette fashioned with tier upon tier of frills. They each carried a basket of small rosebuds.

Mr. Andrew McGregor, Jr., nephew of the bride, was best man and Mr. William Banham and Mr. Mitchell Scott ushered the guests to the pews which were marked with tulle bows.

Mr. Douglas Mail played the wedding marches and during the signing of the register Miss Catherine McIntosh and Miss Pamela Annear sang "O Promise Me" in duet.

AT SISTER'S HOME

The wedding reception was arranged at the Bonnie Doon home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Potts and Mr. Potts which was decorated for the occasion with the bright flowers of the season. Welcoming the guests, Mrs. Potts was smart in a slender model of delphinium blue crepe complimented by a corsage of pink roses.

Placed beneath a chandelier from which pink streamers extended to each corner, the bride's table was laid in white linen wtih deep lace insertions and centred with a three tiered wedding cake imbedded in pink tulle. Pink roses and carnations in silver vases were placed at the table corners and the tall tapers were also in pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will take up residence near Tofield after several weeks honeymoon at the Pacific coast.

RUST ENSEMBLE

For her train journey the bride was smart in a frock in tones of rust and beige worn with a top coat in rust colored nubby wool and collared in squirrel. Her felt hat and her gloves, bag and shoes, were in matching tones.

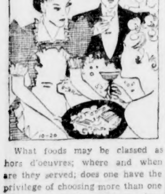
What To Do

By Phyllis Belmont



What foods may be classed as hors d'oeuvres; where and when are they served; does one have the privilege of choosing more than one food; if served in one's home, how should they be served? Thank you very much. MISS M. I. H.

Answer—Hors d'oeuvres are appetizers and should be small enough to constitute only a mouthful. But their number is legion. They may be tasty tidbits made of toasted or plain bread, or tiny, plain thin crackers covered with a salty tart spread, sardines, anchovies, caviar, and so on; small savory sausages; filled celery, olives, etc., etc. Appetizers fit into many occasions. They may be served in the living room with the cocktail before dinner, as the first course of a luncheon or dinner, or with the fruit or tomato juice at a luncheon or dinner, or as the main course at a cocktail party or late evening snack with any beverage that is not sweet. Whether arranging the appetizers on large platters or trays for serving in the living room or buffet, or on individual plates as a first course, select those that make an interesting contrast of color and garnish them attractively with radish roses, celery curls or watercress. If a dinner is to follow, only a few hors d'oeuvres should be served, but where these savory tidbits form the main course, then serve plenty of them.

TALLOW YIELDS TO LARD

Stains from candles dripping on table linen occasionally resist ordinary laundering procedure. Use a dull knife to scrape off as much as possible without injuring the linen. Rubbing lard into the spot often loosens the tallow sufficiently, so that the ordinary soap and water bath removes it entirely. If it is still stubborn, try a reliable dry-cleaning fluid.

Just for good eating, or with Hallowe'en in mind, try these apple recipes.

TAFFY APPLES

One cup sugar, 1-3 cup white corn syrup, 2-3 cup water, 6 medium-sized red apples, 12 red cinnamon candies, ½ cup sherry or grape juice, 6 wooden meat skewers, from the butcher shop.

Wash and dry apples and insert skewers. Mix sugar, syrup, water, then cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add cinnamon candy and continue cooking without stirring until the "hard crack" stage (300 degrees F.) is reached, or until a little of the mixture dropped in cold water forms a hard piece that will crack easily.

Put pan of syrup in a pan of hot water, and keep water boiling. Dip each apple into syrup quickly, remove it and whirl apple until syrup covers it smoothy. Stand apples so they do not touch each other, and allow them to cool. They should be eaten the day they are made.

MULLED APPLE FRITTERS

Four medium-sized sour apples, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-3 cup powdered sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted shortening, 1 egg well beaten.

Wash and core apples. Cut in ½ inch slices. Marinate for 30 minutes in sherry or grape juice. Sift dry ingredients. Add milk, shortening, and beaten egg. Dip drained apple slices in batter and fry in deep fat, at a temperature of 375 degrees F., or when a cube of bread browns in 50 seconds.

Fry 3 to 5 minutes or until cooked through and delicately browned. If desired, fritters may be used as a dessert, serving them with powdered sugar and nutmeg or cinnamon.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, dry cereal, creamed codfish, buttered toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cheese souffle, beet salad, hermit cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Grapefruit juice, broiled fish, lemon butter, hashed brown potatoes, cauliflower, mulled apple fritters, powdered sugar, coffee, milk.

DESIGN No. 671—ANGORA CUFFS ON SWEDISH KNIT GLOVES

Dear Readers: Who wants woolly gloves? A remarkable number of you—judging from your letters. Some want to wear them now; others want to tuck them into gift packages. We hope someone remembers how much we like them because these are, in our opinion, ultra chic, very practical and definitely different in design. The simple Swedish motif is knit into the back, wrist and thumb—a decorative idea typical of Scandinavian countries and admired by all.

The pattern includes complete directions for knitting the gloves in three sizes, small, medium and large; material requirements, instructions for fluffing the angora cuffs and for finishing.

Send 15 cents in coin for this pattern to The Edmonton Bulletin, Needlework Dept., Edmonton, Alberta.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married 10 years and have a small family. Up until the last year I have managed to keep my husband and family together, and I have been a good mother, wife and housekeeper. But my husband announces now that he is tired of domesticity; that he finds a wife and children burdensome, and cannot tolerate us any longer. He is very anxious for me to take the children and go away for a while, as he says he needs a rest from the family. I was a very successful business girl before I was married and am offered a marvelous opportunity to go back into the business world, but I hesitate because I am afraid I would have to neglect my children. Do you advise me to go away for a while? JEAN.

Answer: I certainly do. Evidently your husband is fed up on domesticity and for the time being, at least, you and the children are just poison to him. Of course, he is altogether in the wrong, but you can't argue with a mental state like that. You just have to meet it with common sense.

So the thing for you to do is to pack up and get off just as soon as you possibly can, and leave him to the freedom he so ardently craves. The chances are that when he gets the thing he desires so much he will find that he doesn't want it after all. Just now he growls over the good food you cook for him. When you have beef he wonders why you didn't have mutton, and when you have mutton he demands to know if they have quit killing beeves in the slaughter houses. Let him try cooking his own breakfasts and eating around in cafeterias and restaurants for a change.

Just now you and the children bore him to tears and get on his nerves. Let him find out how lonely a house can be without a woman or a child in it, nobody with whom to exchange a word.

Just now he thinks it would be the most delightful thing in the world to be able to come and go as he pleases, and stay out with the boys all night without any one lying awake listening for his key in the lock. Let him try sitting up in a few all-night sessions at poker.

Believe me, he will come out of the experience a wiser man, for whatever else matrimony does to a man, it unfits him for the single life. That is why widowers remarry so soon. They can't stand the freedom they have perhaps longed for. Your husband will miss the good meals you have prepared for him, the comfortable home you have made for him, the responsibilities you have taken off of him, the care you have taken of him.

About the time he gets so that he can read over a menu from top to bottom without finding one single thing on it that appeals to his appetite; when he goes back home at night to a house that is dusty and stuffy and cluttered up; when he finds out that he has forgotten to send out the laundry and hasn't a single clean collar; when he finds that all he has got out of running around with a wild crowd is a headache, a stack of I.O.U.'s and bills he has run up for things he couldn't afford, why then domesticity won't look so bad to him and he will begin to count the days until you and the children will come home.

DOROTHY DIX.

According To Culbertson

By ELY CULBERTSON

Right now, virtually at the start of the Second Annual Self-Rating Bridge examination, I want to clarify some important points.

First (as in the case of last year) you are not expected to answer questions on the sole basis of the Culbertson system. This is a test of general bridge knowledge, not of your ability to memorize (or look up in my books) the rules or illustrations that will lead you to the correct answers. Hence, followers of other systems will have an absolutely equal chance with Culbertson players. Take slam bidding, for instance. If you regularly use the Blackwood convention, and make the proper bid in accordance with it, you will receive full credit, just as though you used the more widely known Culbertson 4-5 no trump convention. Indeed, if you arrive by logical steps at the correct final contract, you do not have to use any slam convention.

TODAY'S QUESTIONS

Question 5. With neither side vulnerable and North (your partner) the dealer, the bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	?

You (South) hold:

♠ K Q 10 8 6 5 ♥ A K Q 4 2 ♦ None ♣ Q 4.

What call do you make now?

Question 6: Both sides vulnerable. East, the opponent on your right, deals and bids one spade. You (South) hold:

♠ None ♥ K 10 8 6 ♦ A J 8 5 3 ♣ Q J 9 2.

What call do you make?

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	1 heart	1 spade	2 diam.
Pass	2 hearts	3 diam.	4 clubs
Double	Pass	Pass	4 diam.
Pass	Pass	4 spades	5 diam.
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

East's bidding was pretty bad in that he at no time actually showed his terrific club support. His three diamond bid implied it, but his later persistence with spades was not helpful to his partner. Incidentally, his three diamond cue bid was too strong, considering his meager honor tricks holding. Six clubs would have been an absolute laydown, but West could not be blamed, under the circumstances for doubling five diamonds. The spade three was opened and dummy's ace was played. Declarer immediately ruffed a club, cashed the diamond ace, and led to the dummy's jack, then ruffed dummy's last club. Now a heart was led toward dummy. The heart ace was marked in West's hand for his opening bid; hence, when West ducked, dummy's king was put up and a low heart was returned. East won with the queen, but could make no safe return. On a club lead, declarer would ruff while dummy discarded a spade (or vice versa), whereas to lead the spade king was to confine defenders to one spade trick. Declarer's foresight in ruffing away dummy's two clubs before attacking hearts had insured his contract.

Don't Rush Headlong To Get High Hairdo

Raising A Family

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Paradoxical as it sounds, there is a time in every child's young life when mothers may keep a child by losing him.

This time is during the early years of development, from twelve to fourteen.

O. R. Barton

I have explained that sensitive children sometimes draw away from close family relationships now. They seem to want to find themselves and work out their plans without much interference from parents. Maybe they feel that the old basis of "dependent child" is beneath their bulging dignity. Maybe they want to be led, but led painlessly, without the hampering strings of personal discipline.

They take to general orders much better at this time than precise ones made purely for their benefit. Intensely idealistic, they love a cause. To this they can be more than faithful.

By "losing" this young person, I mean, therefore, that he needs to follow someone very strong and fine, who understands the value of impersonal standards, such as a camp leader or the leader of any group intended to rouse the spirit of good sportsmanship and self-reliance.

We have all seen the boy (or girl) who would not stir himself at home, work frantically for a group headed by such a person, man or woman. Mothers wonder at the miracle and sigh with discouragement when this happens. They feel that a stranger has accomplished what they have failed to do.

It is a mistake to be down-hearted about it. The whole process is as natural as breathing. Such a child has not forgotten his allegiance, nor is he less devoted. He is merely tying his wagon to a new star, and temporarily taking a flier from the home nest. He feels that he can be freer to work out his noble instincts away from the same old eye and away from the same old routine. In short, he is not too anxious to be noble at all, except in company and among his own colleagues.

ORGANIZATIONS HELP

The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, and all organizations patterned on them; nature study groups; hiking clubs; school orchestras; sports teams; hobby classes and so on without end, provide such essential outlets for the adolescent. In every case the head should be a person of wide understanding who sees the need of character building and uses the activity engaged in as a means to this end.

Interest, as always, is the medium through which the heart is reached. The boy or girl will not only be enthusiastic about his group but he will make a sort of hero of his leader. It is wholesome and healthy. Don't be jealous, mother.

Once before I wrote something like this. "Don't allow clubs and outside interests to steal your child. He is yours. Keep him at home sometimes." I never meant that more than I do now. One or two interests at this time are enough. Home ties must be preserved at all costs. Interest in his home and responsibility to it is the real goal, after all.

Feed them well, these intense children. Invent ways to hold interest right at home. Make home a center, a place they want to come to. Show co-operation in their affairs. Hold right on. You won't lose your child, but gain him.

By ALICIA HART

Now that upswept coiffures are no longer news and women have begun to realize that piling the hair on top of the head is not a "must" some of them are probably still debating with themselves.

Shall they follow fashion and take the highroad—or go on wearing their hair in long bobs or some neck-covering variation of the long bob?

If you are still trying to make up your mind, go about it in a business-like way. Have your hair set high (not on the day when your club meets, or you have a date), then go home and inspect it from all angles.

Chances are it will look well in front—give you a gay, youthful air. But chances aren't as good that the back or the sides will be flattering.

If your neck is lined, the up style wasn't meant for you. Or if your ears stand out from your head, you'll realize that hair as a covering is a blessing.

A too long neck—if it is also too thin—will in all likelihood ruin any type of piled-high hair, no matter how becoming it is otherwise.

The girl who hates her height will notice that the upswept look adds to it. And one whose jewline is very prominent probably won't like the profile view of herself at all.

Before you decide to adopt a high coiffure, be sure that you examine yourself from all angles again two days after the setting. For, even though the style is becoming, you may have the type of hair that just won't stay up in neat well-groomed fashion. In that case, seek a style that looks new but which will stay in place between visits to the hairdresser.

Broomhall

There was some demand for the strong Canadian wheat yesterday and London paid the following prices: No. 1 Northern 79¼, No. 2 Northern 75, No. 3 Northern 72, and No. 4 Northern 67. A few loads of American hard winter wheat were reported purchased, presumably by the continent. There was also a fair business in corn, mostly Russian and Argentine, and some American from the gulf and Montreal. The weather in the Argentine is again cloudy and cool. There has been considerable precipitation lately and a period of sunny weather will be needed to promote growth. The old wheat is not being quoted and new wheat quotations are not yet available. The second official estimate of the acreage to cereals will be published late tomorrow, some important changes may occur.

TURNER VALLEY OIL WELLS ON REDUCED QUOTA

CALGARY, Oct. 20—Turner Valley crude oil wells were on a new production quota schedule under orders of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation board today.

The new quota, which became effective at 8 a.m. today, sets the total allowable daily production from the 59 wells operating in the field at 14,500 barrels, a reduction of 7,500 barrels from the schedule in effect since early in September.

With the end of the harvest and tourist seasons the market demand has lessened, necessitating the curtailment of the daily yield from the valley wells it was intimated by board officials.

TWO SELECTED AS DELEGATES FOR BAPTISTS

Edmonton - Peace River Church Association Holds Parley Here

Dr. G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of education and Rev. H. Stibbards of McDonald Baptist Church were elected representatives to the Baptist Union Ordination Examining Council, at the Wednesday session of the annual Edmonton-Peace River Baptist Association convention held for two days at First Baptist Church here.

The council is composed of representatives from the four western provinces and meets annually to pass on the ordination of the various ministers in the Union.

"Baptist Witness" was the topic discussed by D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., and Dr. E. W. Sheldon of the University of Alberta on Wednesday afternoon.

TWO SECTIONS

The afternoon session which was divided into two sections included a meeting of the women's section of the conference with Mrs. W. C. Smalley presiding. Dr. O. E. Daniel, missionary of Vizianagram, India, described to the women the number of study courses which he had prepared on the various phases of the Christian religion, courses which at present were being widely used in his country.

At the afternoon section for ministers Rev. F. A. Karlson of Delton Baptist told of "How To Reach the Unchurched."

A supper meeting in First Baptist Church was presided over by Rev. Fred Antrobus, of Camrose, who was also speaker on "Church Schools and Young People's Work." This was followed by a discussion group.

EVENING SESSIOINS

Evening sessions were led by Rev. S. M. Hirtle, of Strathcona Baptist church, moderator of the association. At these sessions, Rev. C. G. Stone of First Baptist lead a song service, with Mrs. F. Barber-Smith at the organ. Four new ministers were introduced to the delegates and included: Rev. E. Backlund of Provost; Rev. L. Whenam of Puffer; Rev. William McCluskey of Brightview, and Rev. Ian Hind of Cherrygrove.

LOYALTY

Affirming Baptist loyalty to the principle of liberty of conscience together with "our sense of the priceless values that belong to us in our British Freedom of speech, of the press and of assembly and worship," the Quebec padlock law was attacked for its thwarting of this freedom and its denial of the inalienable right of the British citizen to a free trial. This was the text of a resolution passed at the morning session Wednesday.

Mother, 5 Children Homeless, Destitute When Home Burns

Fire which broke out around the chimney of a little two-roomed house at 12309 121 street on Wednesday afternoon burned through the roof, destroyed clothing, bedding and furniture, and rendered Mrs. E. Mogden and her five children homeless, Acting Chief Macgregor of the city fire department notifying the health department after the fire had been subdued that the house was no longer tenable.

The fire leaves Mrs. Mogden and her family in a pitiable plight. The oldest of the five children is Jean aged 8; then comes Audrey 3 and Georgina 2, while David and Patricia, the latest arrivals, and twins, are only seven months old.

Mrs. Mogden is the sole caretaker of the family, her husband having left her some time ago. She has been on relief for some months past, but Wednesday's fire has now reduced the family to a state of destitution, according to authorities who investigated.

Neighbors rallied to the aid of the Mogdens after the fire and they are being given temporary shelter in the home of a neighbor, but clothing for all, furniture, beds and bedding are urgently needed to get the family in shape to withstand the rigors of the coming winter.

"This is an urgent case and we would ask anyone interested to give immediate assistance," stated The Bulletin's informant. "Neighbors are doing what they can, but even the family which has taken them in temporarily is on relief and little can be looked for in the immediate neighborhood. We would like to ask Bulletin readers to come to the assistance of Mrs. Mogden and her little brood of five."

Any offers of clothing, furniture, beds, bedding or food will be received by The Bulletin and arrangements will be made to pick up donations and see that they are delivered to Mrs. Mogden. Telephone 26121. The need is urgent.

MERCURY SOARS TO HIGH POINT: FAIR FORECAST

Temperatures in the far north dipped slightly overnight with Aklavik reporting the low reading for that area with a temperature of 26. High reading was taken at Dawson where the thermometer registered 54.

Six reporting points in the near north sent in readings all below the frost line, Grouard claiming the lowest with a chilly 27. Weather there was mostly cloudy and calm while points reported slight winds. Smoke was reported hanging over Calling River.

JUDGMENT FOR DEBT ENTERED AGAINST ROWE

Leave to enter judgment for $2,600 against Percy J. Rowe, Social Credit member of the House of Commons for Athabasca, was granted by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd in supreme court Thursday on the application of Carl Clement of the law firm of Clement and Whittaker.

The application was made on behalf of Lucy James, executrix of the will of Herman Werley, Beverly district miner, under an agreement entered into by Mr. Rowe to pay off $3,500 debt owing to the Werley estate by installments.

Since the making of the agreement, $1,200 has accrued on installments on which $900 has been paid. No payment has been made since April 1, 1938, the court was informed.

The debt arose out of a transaction between Mr. Rowe, W. J. Bleiler and Werley under which the deceased miner invested $7,000 in the Beverly Limited co-operative coal-mining venture.

Following the collapse of this venture, civil action was taken to recover from Mr. Rowe and Mr. Bleiler the amount invested by Werley under a clause in the investment agreement which guaranteed the investor against loss.

Judgment was obtained against Bleiler, but Mr. Rowe agreed to pay off his indebtedness by installments, the hearing of the action against him being abandoned on that understanding.

Stating that she was Canadian of British descent, the donor added, "there is so little appreciation of our indebtedness to Czechoslovakia."

WIDE SPREAD FOR GAS COST SURVEY SHOWS

Fuel Tax Across Canada Ranges From 6 To 10 Cents a Gallon

A motorist setting out to cross Canada from Vancouver to Halifax, with side trips to northern centres in the various provinces, would find varying gasoline prices as well as diversified scenery and climatic conditions. He also would learn provincial taxes on the motor fuel range from six to 10 cents a gallon.

A survey showed today prices for standard grades of gasoline in the Dominion's largest cities vary from 16½ to 25.3 cents an imperial gallon. Added to these prices are provincial taxes.

Motorists in Calgary, 40 miles from the Turner Valley oil fields, pay 20 cents for standard grades and 2½ cents more for a better grade, plus the seven-cent tax. A third grade sells for 17 cents. In Edmonton, 200 miles north of Calgary, standard grades are 22½ cents with a better quality fuel at 25 cents.

Following are the prices in various cities:

PRESSURE TEST IS UNDERTAKEN BY FIRE BRANCH

No folks, it was not an attempt to convert Edmonton's downtown streets into a Canadian Venice, nor was it an attempt by city firemen to drain the Saskatchewan river dry. It was just a pressure test staged by the fire department for fire insurance underwriters who started an inspection of Edmonton's fire-fighting equipment on Wednesday.

Edmontonians on Jasper avenue and 101 street in the downtown section were astonished Thursday morning to see six fire hydrants belching water onto the streets. At each hydrant a fireman was stationed to stop the flow of water if cellar flooding threatened.

In answer to questions they stated a pressure test was being made. The test continued for about ten minutes while officials from the fire underwriters bureau inspected the water pressure flow.

Former Sailor Urges Home For Retired Seamen

J. H. Logan of 11902 123 street, former sailor, believes that a home for retired sailors should be built on either the east or the west coast. During an 8,000 mile trip along the Atlantic coast from Virginia to Montreal, Mr. Logan saw enough evidence of the plight of sailors to prove to him the necessity for such a home. He gave up the sea himself about 33 years ago, but keeps an active interest in the activities through his association with the Edmonton Cutty Sark club. He is now connected with the C.N.R.

The Inquiring Reporter

A special investigating committee in the United States has found that noise in city streets is becoming a great irritant and has called for an increased public interest to combat it. "What do you think should be done in this regard here?" The Bulletin Inquiring Reporter asked. Here are the replies:

J. A. McNEIL, Alberta Motor Association: "I don't think the noise problem is anywhere near as acute in this country as it is in the United States. There is no excessive noise on streets, or at least no more than is absolutely unavoidable, when all the regulations are being enforced, as they now are."

COLIN HAY, merchant: The fact that two streets are at the heart of the city's life necessarily suggests some congestion and noise. Yet even this part is quieter than corresponding districts in other places.

T. G. GRIFFIN, Canadian Legion: Everything is all quiet here. And I haven't noted any particular noise on streets lately, either.

YEAR IN JAIL SENTENCE FOR HARNESS THEFT

William Stogryn, Wabamun district resident, was found guilty in supreme court Thursday by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives on charges of stealing and retaining in his possession three sets of double harness and a saddle, the property of Mrs. Marie Hebert, Winterburn. He was sentenced to serve one year in Fort Saskatchewan jail on the charges.

A similar sentence was imposed on him to run concurrently, on a charge of retaining possession of two sets of double harness, the property of J. H. Yonkers, Leduc district farmer, knowing them to be stolen. He was found guilty on this charge on Monday and remanded for sentence until disposal of 13 other theft charges against him.

At the conclusion of the trial Thursday morning, Crown Prosecutor J. W. McClung applied for a stay of proceedings against the accused in the remaining theft charges.

ROPER DECLARES NEW ZEALAND IS SEEKING REFORM

Triumph of the Labor government in the New Zealand general election recently marked a notable victory for the forces seeking the peaceful reform of society, Elmer Roper, secretary of the Alberta C.C.F. said Thursday in an address to the Lions club at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr. Roper, who has often been in correspondence with Premier M. J. Savage, said that the electoral success showed the strength of Socialism and would aid the movement over the whole world.

It is estimated that 15 states and the District of Columbia have laws against hitch-hiking.

CONTESTANTS FOR COUNCIL ARE SELECTED

M. B. McColl, Sid Parsons On Slate For Aldermanic Honors

Two newcomers will appear on the aldermanic ballots under the Citizens' Committee banner on election day, with Ald. J. T. McCreath and Ald. A. Bissett intimating to the committee in charge of the selection of candidates that they would not seek re-election.

Wednesday evening this committee named the following to their aldermanic slate: retiring Aldermen James H. Ogilvie, Hugh J. Macdonald and Blair Paterson; M. B. McColl, insurance agent, and Sidney Parsons, well-known Labor leader and vice-president of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council.

The slate for school board will be selected at a meeting to be held on Friday evening.

Mayor J. W. Fry, seeking his second term of office, has been endorsed by the Citizens' Committee on whose platform he contested last year's mayoralty vacancy.

Mr. Parsons was absent from the city in Peace River when announcement of his inclusion on the Citizens' Committee slate was made, and it is not known defintely whether he would accept.

Mr. Parsons and Mr. McColl are veterans of the Great War. This is Mr. Parsons' second try for election to the aldermanic board. Mr. McColl is a newcomer to civic politics.

Can You Speak Readily Before an Audience?

Make an Asset of Your Voice

Joan's the new president of her club. And why not? Joan not only has good ideas but she has learned how to express them.

You, too, may have good ideas! But when the opportunity comes, can you get up and talk easily?

You can, if you'll remember that to talk effectively you should—1. Know your subject. Get your facts together. Go to the library—it's a great place for fact finding.

2. Prepare your speech by jotting down your facts in logical order. Add incidents and examples to make your speech more colorful. If you're talking of your visit to a national park, tell about your ride on a mule.

3. Before giving your speech, practice reading aloud. Train your voice to express joy, enthusiasm, tenderness by seeing how much emotion you can put into meaningless sounds like up, pi, po.

Speaking well in public brings recognition. Our 32-page booklet gives you complete directions for preparing speeches. Shows you how to hold the interest of listeners. Sample speeches of welcome, introduction, taking office. Tips for toastmasters, radio speakers, club meetings.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Public Speaking Self-Taught" to The Edmonton Bulletin Home Service, Edmonton, Alberta. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MYRNA DOMBEY, heroine. Wife of the sensational swing band leader.

ROBERT TAIT, hero, newspaper photographer, detective.

ANNE LESTER, Myrna's closest friend.

DANNIE FEELEY, officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday: Tait begins to reorganize the band under his managership and the members agree to help him and Myrna to the end.

CHAPTER XV

"I DON'T want to make any promises I can't keep," Tait told "Torchy" Stephens and the band he had gathered inside his apartment. "Before Lud was killed he was riding for another kind of a fall. He was paying your salaries, all right, but it wouldn't have been long before you'd have been out of jobs—because Lud wasn't paying anybody else. I'm going to try to hold off the wolves and get things straightened out, but don't depend on it. It's a gamble, and nothing more. If there's anybody here that doesn't want to stick it out, we want to hear from him now."

"Torchy" spoke up. "I'm sticking. Anybody here want to slide?"

The ensuing silence was the answer, and Tait turned to "Torchy" Stephens. "Do you think Pacific-Plaza will try to poke a hole in our contract?"

"I believe I can talk them out of it if they do try it," Stephens said. "There's a [illegible] clause in the contract that they might try to crawl out through, but [illegible] I did a favor for Hoskins, the manager. I took over Izzy Pico's band when Izzy got plastered on a night that Hoskins had advertised big."

"Good!" Tait exclaimed. "Then you're the fellow to talk to Hoskins—but only if he brings up the [illegible]. I think the best bet would be to keep showing up and doing your stuff, as if nothing had happened."

"Sure," said Stephens. "That's what we'll do."

The next two weeks were hectic ones for Bob Tait. He and Feeley spent days going over the Dombey papers, but there was considerable extraneous stuff and in the end they did little more than establish what Harris Rogers had told Tait in the first place. Ludden Dombey had been head-over-heels in debt. His past included a number of expensive young women. He'd faked his authorship of "The Cat's Meow" and failed to make good, and he'd violated his contract with the phonograph recording company, which had been a good source of revenue.

Feeley was frankly stymied, and was leaning heavily on the existence of the musician who had written "The Cat's Meow." But he hadn't yet been able to find him, though the city had been combed and Feeley had wired his description to every conceivable musicians' union in the country. Leonard Macy, the dilettante and criminologist, had been suspiciously silent and this worried Feeley more than anything. He knew, for instance, that Macy had several times been in touch with Barkley, the prosecuting attorney. The newspapers, weary of an administration which used the police department as a political football, were pressing Barkley hard. There was more lawbreaking, more crime than ever, and while Feeley was [illegible] he was [illegible] to be painted with the same brush as the rest of the department. Barkley wanted a conviction, Feeley knew, and Barkley didn't care much who got convicted. What the detective officer feared was that Macy would spring something suddenly, and make the police detectives a laughing stock. And Barkley would probably encourage him, since he couldn't very well get a conviction until somebody was brought to book with sufficient evidence to justify a trial for the murder of Ludden Dombey.

Tait, too, was painfully aware of the situation, but he had never felt so utterly helpless. There was one bright spot in the outlook—The Swingateers were doing well. Under "Torchy" Stephens they were [illegible], and nothing was hinted that the Pacific-Plaza would try to break the contract. As the new manager, Tait had contacted the majority of more important creditors and convinced a share of them that they still had a chance to get their money. A few nights of pencil scratching told him that if Montgomery would give The Swingateers a chance to make some more records, even without Lud Dombey, he could get the corporation on an even keel again. Then Myrna would do as she liked. She could stay with the ship, or she could leave it free of Dombey's debts.

Time and again Tait found himself hating Dombey for the mess he'd made for Myrna. But then, he told himself, Ludden Dombey had not figured on being murdered. Gradually Tait discovered that it wasn't the debts so much angered him, where Myrna was concerned, as it was the immediate past in Dombey's private life. Tait kept feeling that Lud Dombey had been a [illegible] to sweep Myrna off her feet without a chance to look at that past. A fellow like Dombey didn't reform over night, not even for a pretty wife like Myrna.

Often, as Bob Tait sat figuring over the Dombey books, he'd be disturbed by the face of Myrna—Myrna's eyes or her moving lips, getting between him and the [illegible] of figures. Perhaps Leonard Macy was right, and he had fallen in love with her without knowing it. Feeley had wondered about it, too. Dannie Feeley was a lot sharper than anyone had [illegible] him [illegible].

In the days following his talk with "Torchy" and the band Tait consciously stayed away from Myrna except when he had to discuss business with her. And he began to resent it a little when she would mention Ludden Dombey in a queer, reserved tone as though she and Lud had held a secret she would share with no one else.

Heavy on Tait's mind had been the fact that Leonard Macy owned a piece of the band. The records showed that he had paid a $1,000 for it, probably took it at a time when Lud Dombey needed money badly and had appealed to Macy whom he knew. And on the third week of The Swingateers programs under "Torchy" Stephens he called the band together and asked them to take a temporary cut so that he could make an offer to buy back Macy's interest for what he paid for it. He told them why and everyone of them agreed that under the circumstances Macy should be out.

Tait took the certified check to Macy's apartment that night. "Bands aren't in your line, Mr. Macy, and I thought you'd be glad to get your money back. I suppose it was merely [illegible] Dombey."

Tait didn't care for Macy's smile. [illegible] to retain my share of The Swingateers Incorporated."

"What would make you change your mind?"

"You mean what would I consider a fair return on my investment? Well—you seem to be doing very well with the outfit, Tait. Suppose we said $5000."

"But that's absurd! Dombey owes at least—"

"It was only a suggestion in answer to your question," Macy interrupted. "We can let matters stand. I'm not in the least worried about my $1000."

But Tait was. As he left Macy's apartment he was plenty worried. Plainly, the man wanted a share in the band—and he must have a reason for wanting it. Could it be so that he could maneuver Myrna into a hole?

ATHABASCA IS REGARDED AS SOCRED TEST

have been active as yet, although the leader of that party in Saskatchewan and two of the Alberta leaders have been busy in other sections of the province, and are still carrying out an active organization campaign in rural ridings.

UNITY NOT MOVING

The Unity party, under the leadership of John I. McFarland of Calgary, issued a manifesto calling for an open convention of all those opposed to the Aberhart government to contest the Athabasca seat with a Unity candidate, but so far no further action has been taken officially by Mr. McFarland or those whom he represents, although it is known that agents of this organization have been quietly working in the constituency.

Conservatives have never been strong in the Athabasca district, which takes in many of the smaller northern outposts, and leaders of that party have intimated that they will not enter a candidate in the coming contest, realizing the hopelessness of their position. Their few followers will be left to act independently on election day.

Communist leaders have been active in the constituency in the past and are known to have scattered followings in some of the "back homestead" districts of Athabasca, but so far they have not called a convention and individuals belonging to the Communist organization have expressed their intention of supporting the Social Credit candidate.

U.F.A. NOT A FACTOR

United Farmers of Alberta, once a factor in the constituency, have dwindled away in the past few years and that party will not be seen in action as a party in the by-election. It is realized by U.F.A. leaders that their vote is split between Liberals and Social Crediters and they are not willing to hazard a guess as to the result of the balloting on Nov. 7.

Rayner Whiteley, pioneer farmer of the Colinton district has been nominated as the Liberal standard bearer, and with J. H. Tade, Colinton storekeeper who was given the Social Credit nomination, is the only other candidate definitely in the field at the present time.

Mr. Tade, who was elected as a Social Credit member in the 1935 general election did not take his seat in the legislature, resigning to make way for the late Hon. C. C. Ross when the latter was taken into the cabinet as minister of mines and natural resources.

ELECTION LOOMS LARGE

But although the other parties have not nominated candidates, and their intentions will not be definitely known until after October 28, the Athabasca by-election looms large in their eyes, as upon the result of the balloting of November 7 will depend much of their future activity. If the vote is adverse to the government, extra pressure will be [illegible] in other parts of the province, and [illegible] will probably be made [illegible] considered a vote of want of confidence in the Aberhart regime.

NO ELECTION IF WIN

[illegible] for Premier Aberhart and his followers will be construed by the latter as an indication that the people of Alberta are satisfied with the Social Credit government now administering the affairs of the province, and there is therefore no reason why the government should not continue in office for its full term of five years. In that event there would be no general election until the fall of 1940.

For these reasons the Athabasca by-election assumes more than ordinary importance in the eyes of the leaders of the various Alberta political parties and is also being watched with more than ordinary interest by political leaders and other interests outside the province.

DAIRYMAN NOW SUSPENDED FOR BREAKING LAW

Infraction of milk distribution regulations laid down by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners has drawn a five day suspension of activities by a North Edmonton dairyman, the suspension starting as from midnight last Monday.

Particular exception was taken by the board to the infraction of the retail price orders.

Five days suspension was imposed by the board, officials stated, because of previous infractions for which the dairyman had been warned but not disciplined.

The suspension was carried out under the Public Utilities Act.

Class B rinks receive $50 in utilities and $50 in cash. William Ruff is ice maker for all the rinks.

Convert Row

All-Star Team

Help For Kids

DOWN in the United States the football boys—and that seems to be approximately 97 per cent of the population—are at it hammer and tongs over the try for a convert point after a touchdown. There is a rapidly increasing group which maintains that the convert point should be abolished since it puts altogether too much value on a single play. True enough the convert has to be made to count and it is equally true that the defending team has a theoretical chance to smear the kick—but it's just theoretical. In the vast majority of cases the convert is made and it really means that a touchdown is worth six points.

The gentlemen who would abolish the convert, or make it more difficult, point to Minnesota's 7-6 win over Michigan as a horrible example of what injustice the convert kick can do. Michigan made 13 first downs to Minnesota's six, gained 157 yards rushing against 91 and completed three times as many forward passes as Minnesota. Surely a team that can do those things is entitled to nothing worse than a tie.

Short Right Wallop Ends Bout in Fourth

MONTREAL, Oct. 20—Al McCoy, Franco-American heavyweight from New York and Boston, spotted Oliver Shanks, young heavyweight from Edmonton, 20 pounds in weight and knocked him out in 1:38 of the fourth of 10 scheduled rounds here last night. McCoy weighed 181½ to 201½ for Shanks.

Shanks tried to use his superior weight to rough McCoy around, but McCoy nailed him with a solid left in the face in the second round and belted him a moment later with a jarring right hand that made Shanks keep his distance.

Shanks was wild in the third and left jabs had him wobbly at the bell. McCoy had him measured and polished him off in the next round.

A flurry of lefts and rights started Shanks back-pedalling, and McCoy threw a hard left to the face that set the westerner up for a beautiful short right-hand blow to the side of the jaw that proved the pay-off punch. Shanks crashed down on his back and didn't move.

Roller Skating Craze Sweeps Across Canada

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—A chorus of spinning wheels sounding like giant, whirling newspaper presses is the melody of a new craze that bids fair to sweep the country. It's the rhythm of the roller skate.

Newest fad in Toronto with disciples in the thousands, it is gripping the west, too, and there's the word of Eddie Penman, Winnipeg wizard of the roller rink, the germ is spreading west from the prairies and east from Toronto.

Ontario has ten rinks, in Toronto, Hamilton, Fort Francis and Fort William, and there are plans for development of others at Ottawa and Montreal. Barrie is considering conversion of its original town hall into a rink.

TOUGH TUMBLES

It is easier than ice skating and requires less effort. Beginners, though take some tough tumbles and their mid-air antics make jitterbugs look like ballet dancers. But the probationary period is short.

Penman, in Toronto performing exhibitions with his pretty partner, Jean McCullough, said before he left for Winnipeg that novices may develop into proficient skaters within three to six weeks.

Most roller rinks provided a greater variety of events than the ice skating rink. Signal bells announce the change of numbers and the floor is cleared before the skaters move out again from the boards. Sometimes it is "all skate" or perhaps the number is for "couples only," "men only" or "reverse skate."

Skaters fill Toronto's half-dozen rinks nightly and a good Saturday night crowd at one rink runs to 1,300.

So popular has the sport become here, a club has been organized and roller skating officials are considering holding the North American figure skating championships in Toronto next spring.

Toronto Skater Joins Sonja Henie

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Stewart Reburn, Toronto figure skater who represented Canada at the 1936 Olympic Games, has signed a contract to become skating partner of Sonja Henie, former Olympic skating champion and motion picture star, it was learned here last night. TROTTING PARK HEAD NATIVE OF NEW BRUNSWICK

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 20 Wetmore, who learned to love harness racing with fine horses in his native town of Gagetown, N.B., today is one of the foremost figures in New England horse racing.

Not only is he treasurer of Suffolk Downs, but, with Charles F. Adams, is one of the major stockholders in the track. He and Adams at one time were allied in business with the Braves when Wetmore was treasurer and Adams president.

A ruddy-faced man with silver-grey hair, Mr. Wetmore is vigorous for his age, 63. Every day, rain or shine, he rides horseback before breakfast. By inclination as well as business, Mr. Wetmore is interested in horses. Between 1910 and 1925 he raced a string of horses around the Short Ship circuit and the fairs.

He was 12 years old when he came alone to Boston from Gagetown. His first job was selling newspapers.

His first business enterprise was in the electrical supply business with the late Hansen Salvage. He borrowed $1,000 from Sears B. Condit, one of New England's leading electrical equipment manufacturers, and the first year's profit on that capital was $20,000, the next $40,000, and in the third year, $80,000.

Wetmore sold his firm in 1925, two years after the death of his partner.

Old Plane Goes Barnstorming

BOSTON, Oct. 20—V. G. Bruce—Reprieved from the scrapheap in an old hangar at Port Melbourne, Australia's oldest airplane, a Maurice Farman biplane, is being reconditioned for a "barnstorming" tour of the Continent and New Zealand.

The last of its type in the world, it was built in Australia in 1914 and used in training Air Force pilots. Built on the "pusher" principle (with the airscrew behind the wings) the plane has a lattice-like frame in place of a fuselage and bicycle wheels fitted under the flimsy undercarriage. A bicycle was often carried lashed to the struts, for the use of the pilot in event of a forced landing. For 24 years it has been a familiar sight in Melbourne.

Separate Squad Suffers 6-3 Defeat

STRATHCONA scored their second win in the Junior High School football league when they eked out a 6-3 victory over Separate in one of the best games played in six man variety this season. Both squads turned in a great defensive game and at the same time pulled off some thrilling passes and end runs that kept the crowd on its toes throughout. Although Separate had a slight edge in play, they were unable to withstand a late rally by the Scona squad which resulted in a converted touchdown and the necessary points for their win.

After a scoreless opening quarter that saw the ultimate losers having an edge in play, Separate took the lead in the second canto when Bernie O'Connor booted a field goal from the thirty-yard line. Scona were kept pretty well in their own end of the field all through the first half.

During the third quarter and the early part of the final period, play centred about mid-field with neither team ever being in scoring position. Then Scona started their drive with possession of the ball on their thirty-yard line. On a series of line plunges and end runs by Marshall and Blefgen, the winners swept down the field and with the ball on Sep's eight yard line, Marshall faded back and tossed a pass to Darcy Duncan, who was in the clear. The same passing duo added the convert. Then with but two minutes to play Separate passed and ran their way down the field only to be stopped on the five-yard line on the last play of the game.

Marshall, Scramstead, Blefgen and Duncan turned in stellar performances for the winners, while Hiem, Maher and O'Connor were good for Separate.

LINEUPS:

Separate: O'Connor, Maher, Oswald, David, Tighe, Driscoll, Hiem, Lamoreaux, Oswald, Parker and Martin.

Strathcona: Hewson, Laubman, Barclay, Duncan, Marshall, Blefgen, Emery, Lieberman, Scramstead, Gilchrist, Wiggins, Rankin.

Eastwood Bantam Club Shows Promise

Victoria Bantams scored an 18-10 win over Eastwood in a scheduled encounter played Wednesday at the Exhibition Grounds. Although Victoria held an advantage throughout, yet these Eastwood lads gave them many anxious moments and the other schools had better be on the look out next year when they run up against them.

EARLY SCORE

Victoria opened the scoring in the first quarter when Nozick passed to Westover for a major score which was converted by Jim Flett from placement. Then Eastwood broke through for two quick trys, the first by Johnny Black on a plunge from the ten yard line after Eastwood had intercepted a Vic pass, and the other by Briggs who completed a pass from Black and then raced thirty yards to go over with ease.

The winners once more took the lead in the second canto when Nakamura carried the ball over on a line plunge after Vic had marched down the field. The convert was missed. Victoria completed their scoring in the third and fourth quarters with Keil scoring a touchdown which was converted by Flett and Chobotuck adding a kick to the deadline.

Nakamura who is one of the finest tacklers in the Bantam league again turned in a great game for the winners, while Briggs and Black were right in there for Eastwood.

Canton Chinese Defences At Last Asserting Selves to Outwit Enemy

HONG KONG, Oct. 20.—Japanese troops drove forward today in their hurried effort to reach Canton, but there were mounting indications the Chinese defence at last was asserting itself. Fully 120,000 Kwangsi and Kwangtung (Canton) province troops manned this defence line, which Japanese must crack or outflank in their drive to reach Canton by Nov. 3, 22nd anniversary of the proclamation of Emperor Hirohito as Crown Prince of Japan. Military observers regarded the Japanese drive as extremely daring, since one successful flank attack by Chinese might see the main Japanese units surrounded. Chinese military authorities at Canton expressed confidence in city's defence. The situation had its dangers for fast-moving Jap units.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20—Japanese military authorities announced last night that Hwangshihkang, 50 air miles southeast of Hankow, was captured in a three-hour assault.

Under cover of a warship barrage from the Yangtse River, they said a force of marines landed on the south bank and joined in the attack, which carried the river offensive a step nearer Hankow, Chinese military capital.

Severe fighting continued on the northern and southern wings of the 150-mile semi-circular front closing in on Hankow. Japanese planes bombed and machine-gunned railway stations north and south of the city through the day and bombarded Hankow's primary defence positions.

Fifteen thousand coolies, pulling rickshas filled with women and children and piles of baggage, streamed out of Hankow under military escort. The government is paying the coolies to aid in evacuation of civilians to the interior. Dozens of army trucks filled with medicines and foodstuffs accompanied the departing civilians.

The British diplomatic personnel will leave Hankow for Chungking, far in the interior, by gunboat tomorrow.

HONG KONG, Oct. 20—Sixty armed motorboats were believed enroute along the South China coast tonight to add an assault by river to Japanese overland drives against Canton.

The fairly large boats added an extraordinary touch to the South China campaign, carrying naval warfare into the network of shallow waterways where heavy craft would run aground.

At Swatow, Eastern Kwantung province, report said the "mosquito fleet" passed southwestward, escorted by a mothership, apparently on its way to the Pearl River delta at the head of which lies the Kwantung provincial capital of Canton.

It was popularly assumed in Hong Kong, crown colony southeast of Canton at the river mouth, that the Japanese were determined to reach Canton by Nov. 3, 22nd anniversary of the proclamation of Hirohito, now emperor, as crown prince of Japan.

The Japanese command, with at least 60,000 soldiers on the march—most within 50 miles of Canton—was adding reinforcements.

Indications were a battle for the city might take place within another week.

BRITISH ARMY BOMBERS SEEK FLIGHT RECORD

LONDON, Oct. 20—Three of Great Britain's latest type bombers will make an attempt within the next few days to better the world's non-stop distance record established by the Russian fliers in their 1937 hop across the top of the world from Moscow to California, it was reported here today.

The three planes will take off from the Royal Air Force base at Upper Heyford, Oxfordshire, at the end of this week for Egypt to prepare for a non-stop flight to Australia, it was said.

A flight from Egypt to Australia would be several hundred miles longer than the record-breaking Russian flight.

NAPLES, Oct. 20—Italy proudly welcomed today 10,000 returning Italian legionnaires who joined the insurgents in the Spanish civil war in secrecy 18 months ago.

THE PLURAL OF "GOOSE" IS NOT ALWAYS "GEESE"

One goose added to another may make two geese, or it may make two gooses. It all depends upon what kind of a goose is meant. If you are speaking of the kind that walk about in the barnyard with that silly look on their faces, it is geese, but if you mean the kind of goose that a tailor uses to shape the shoulders of a coat, these are gooses. People eat geese, but they have never gone in for roast gooses.

Government Moves To Get $2,000,000 Income Tax Return

James A. MacKinnon Says Ottawa Takes Action to Collect From Seven Textile Firms Following Turgeon Probe

As a "direct result" of the Turgeon Textile Report, action has been taken by the Liberal government at Ottawa to recover $2,000,000 in principal and interest following evidence of alleged filing of incomplete income tax returns uncovered by the commission, James A. MacKinnon, Liberal M.P. for West Edmonton, declared Wednesday night in an address reviewing the Mackenzie King administration's achievements during the past session.

"As a direc result of the Turgeon report," Mr. MacKinnon said, "claims against seven textile firms have been filed by the income tax branch of the Dominion government for the recovery of upwards of two million dollars in principal and interest, and further actions will likely be started."

"The commission uncovered huge reserves of these companies alleged not to have been properly accounted for in their income tax returns. The case is now before the Exchequer Court of Canada," he continued.

WHEAT PRICE

Action of the Dominion government, the Liberal member declared, in fixing the price of wheat at 80 cents a bushel, "will mean millions and millions of dollars for Western Canada, some offset at least for our tariff handicaps."

Government legislation based on the Turgeon grain inquiry will likely be brought down at the next session of parliament, Mr. MacKinnon said.

Reforms effected in the penal system of Canada also were summarized by the speaker as he reviewed the work of the Archambault Royal Commission.

Describing the past session as one "of action and practical results," Mr. MacKinnon said that legislation based on these inquiries would not only result in improved conditions but would result in savings to the Canadian public much greater than the cost involved in creating the commissions.

GAIN FROM PROBES

Political opponents of the present federal administration have made a particular point of criticizing the cost of these Royal Commissions. These critics direct attention to the fact that the eight major commissions appointed during the past two or three years have cost a total of slightly over $1,000,000. What these critics carefully refrain from pointing out is that the prospective gain in cash returns to the country from only one of these inquiries will pay for more than twice the cost of all Royal Commissions and investigating bodies appointed since the present government came into power," he said.

"One other Royal Commission, possibly the most important of all, has completed its hearings but has not yet tendered its report. I refer to the Rowell commission on Dominion-provincial relations," he added. "Upon its findings will depend, to a great extent, the shape of things to come in this country of ours. Canada's unity, progress and influence are all being too frequently threatened by constitutional conflicts over the respective limits of federal and provincial rights. Canadians are looking with hope to this important body to supply a solution to its complicated constitutional problem.

"When Liberal delegates to the National Liberal convention meetings gathered in Ottawa in May, Prime Minister Mackenzie King deprecated tendencies towards disunity in our Dominion and asked the men and women of Canada to see that these destructive forces were checked before it was too late.

ABLE LEADERSHIP

"I cannot close this review without this public declaration of faith in the leader of the Government of Canada—the Right Honourable W. L. Mackenzie King. My association with him for the past three years has bred in me the most profound confidence in his judgment and integrity.

"Members of all parties testify to his kindness, his generosity, his countless courtesies and the instinctive and unfailing sympathy he extends to anyone shadowed by any touch of personal sorrow. His leadership of the Liberal party has been without parallel for the skill with which he has fused the divergent elements among his followers into an instrument of political progress. He does not domineer. He never talks as if there are only two views on a subject—his own and the wrong one. His attributes and his statesmanship have made him the supreme party leader since his beloved Laurier.

"A great nation cannot be developed upon a foundation of hatred, internal strife and discord. It can only grow on union, tolerance, moderation and reason. Attempts to make any one province or group of provinces antagonistic towards the rest of Canada will result in Liberals everywhere taking up the challenge. They will see to it that the flag of national unity will be kept flying at the top of the Liberal mast," Mr. MacKinnon said.

"Government action of special interest to Albertans included the selection by the federal department of mines and resources of survey and exploration parties to map and investigate mineral areas in the province and also the channel dredging work at Waterways.

"Special rock dredging equipment is to be made permanently available for work on the Athabasca between McMurray and the mouth of the river. Expenditures involved in providing this service will run into large figures, but with the rapidly growing importance of the north country to Edmonton I felt this improvement in northern navigation to be imperative," said Mr. MacKinnon.

"A special dredge will be transported to McMurray shortly ready for operations as soon as the ice goes out in the spring. It had been hoped to have this dredge completed in time to start work this fall."

PAYS TRIBUTE

In this connection Mr. MacKinnon paid tribute to the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and the Northern Alberta and Edmonton Chamber of Mines.

"When I needed help at Ottawa in matters referring to central Alberta and Edmonton and Edmonton's hinterland to the North, I did not hesitate to call on these organizations and their help was prompt, thorough and enthusiastic," he said.

Further evidence of the interest of the Dominion government in Alberta is the fact that four topographical parties and two parties engaged in geological investigations conducted field work in Alberta this last summer.

AMENDMENTS

Amendments were made to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act permitting the appointment of more than one board in a province where required. By agreement with the senate the termination date for this act is set for Dec. 31, 1938 in the five eastern provinces where the legislation is very unpopular. No such date was set for either Alberta or Saskatchewan.

The sum of $80,000 was granted by the Dominion government to Alberta in 1937 under the Dominion-Provincial youth training plan, he said. Last available figures show that this national plan has given training to over sixteen thousand young men and over twelve thousand young women.

Implementing the report of the Veterans' Assistance Commission, the federal government provided for the extension of allowances, to include disabled veterans, regardless of age, who are incapable of maintaining themselves, and also certain veterans of the South African war, Mr. MacKinnon explained.

The Soldier Settlement act was also amended this year to extend the time for double credit or payments of arrears.

EXHAUSTIVE REPORT

"At the close of the 1937 session of parliament, a special committee investigating the price of farm implements, made an exhaustive report which was hotly debated during this session. The discussion which took place is of particular importance to the West since about two-thirds of all farm machinery sold in Canada is purchased in the three prairie provinces.

"The report of the committee contained 35 conclusions including recommendations for putting cream separators on the free list; freedom of all farm implements from dumping duty; restoration of the Crows Nest Pass rates on farm implements with the benefit of such lower freight rates to be passed on to the farmer.

"The committee also urged the removal of duties on all materials used in manufacturing farm machinery; a further standardization of repair parts and a drastic cut in their price to the consumer. Finally the committee recommended a general reduction in credit charges to farmers on sales of farm implements," said Mr. MacKinnon.

"High protection elements in parliament strongly opposed this far-reaching report, but Minister of Agriculture Gardiner, in a vigorous address to the House, warned that if the agricultural implement industry continues to pay no attention to the complaints of farmers and the findings of parliamentary committees, action would be taken by the government which they would fully understand and appreciate. He further observed that if the financial set-up of the implement industry is to blame for higher prices, then the government might have to assume greater control over the organizing of such corporations," Mr. MacKinnon concluded.
